Production Gain to Follow Work on 'B' Blast Furnace

Granite City Steel Co. is "blowing in" a blast furnace this week after a major relining and improvement which provided employment for about 650 building tradesmen at the peak. It was one of the largest construction projects underway in the entire St. Louis Metropolitan region.

Granite City Steel became a subsidiary of National Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, last year. H. M. Love, president of Granite City Steel, said National's investment in the relining of the blast furnace, which included various modifications to the furnace and auxiliary equipment, "is part of a program to increase pig iron and steel-making capabilities at Granite City."

Love is also president of National's Midwest Steel Division in the Chicago area. A blast furnace is one of the largest of all industrial facilities. There are only two of these in the St. Louis area, both at Granite City Steel.

As the company's other blast furnace was relined in 1971, Love said, Granite

City Steel can expect to maintain pig iron production at a relatively high level for the next several years.

Molten pig iron is refined to produce steel in the company's basic oxygen furnaces.

Refining and modernization of the "B" blast furnace included installation of a smokeless excess blast furnace gas blower-burner stack, one of the projects in Granite City Steel's environmental improvement program.

The "B" blast furnace has a hearth diameter of 28 feet and a working volume of 50,000 cubic feet.

The relining and other improvements to this furnace and the slightly smaller "A" blast furnace are integral parts of a program, the objective of which is to bring the total metal production at Granite City Steel to a level of 5,000 tons a day, Love said.

The work on "B" blast furnace was completed in the scheduled 90 days.

Refractory brick lining was completely replaced.

The circular steel shells of the three stoves where blast air is pre-heated before entering "B" furnace were also relined and equipped with larger gas burners to permit higher hot blast temperatures and, thus, lower coke rates and higher iron production rates.

Granite City Steel is also completing an allied project—the installation of an additional 90,000 c.f.m. turbo blower to increase blast air volume.

As part of the "B" furnace reline, the design of the bosh—that part of the furnace immediately above the hearth—has been improved and a new bosh cooling system installed. An additional iron runner and several additional slag spouts were installed in the "B" furnace cast house to cope with increasing production.

There were significant improvements in the holding hoppers and other parts of the furnace.

McKay Heads United Fund; Final Figure 95% Allocations Met

Melvin O. McKay, Granite City Steel Co. assistant treasurer, was elected as Tri-Cities United Fund president at the annual dinner meeting Tuesday evening at Granite City High School.

The final result of the drive for the 20 member agencies' 1972 operating funds was announced as $389,701 or over 95% of the $410,000 goal. Previous high raised was $388,661 for 1971.

Officers elected by the board besides McKay were Attorney Leo H. Konzen and Melvin C. Wilmann. First Granite City National Bank president, re-elected as UF vice-president; Elmer E. Hartgerink, Miles Laboratories plant manager, re-elected as secretary; and John L. McDonald Jr., Granite City Trust and Savings Bank vice-president and cashier, new UF treasurer succeeding McKay.

The board session was conducted by George F. Becker, retiring United Fund president. He is a United Steelworkers of America staff representative.

Earlier in the evening, UF contributors elected to three-year board terms Bernard Anderson, Carl Baczenas, John Barnett, David V. Fox, Arthur Griffin, Wilbert Hemken, Roger Higgins, Paul H. Kelly, Larry Kimball, Donald Lenz, Alex Malyszynski, M. B. Miloski, Everett Morien, Mrs. Helen Peters, Dale Ren, D. R. Robertson, Mrs. Joyce Schrader, Irvin State Jr., Wilmer Stinson, Edward Stone, Bill H. Terrell, Mrs. Eunice Tharp, Carl Thomsberry and Hartgerink.

Ralph A. Morris and Richard Allen were elected to one-year terms as directors. Guest speaker was Bob DeMarco, a former Granite Cityan on the Miami Dolphins Super Bowl football team.

Kelly, A. O. Smith Corp. plant manager and co-chairman of the latest UF drive, was master-of-ceremonies. He presented a plaque to Becker citing service to the United Fund.

Fred Noeth, Washington

School principal, accepted a plaque recognizing students' UF participation.

President Becker reported to the gathering, "I cannot begin to express my gratitude to the thousands of community-minded people who have again demonstrated their concern by their generous response in support of the 1972 United Fund Drive."

"Many events took place that had a profound impact upon our United Fund this past year."

"The untimely death of our executive director, David Norton saddened the entire community and deprived the Tri-Cities United Fund of a valued leader and true friend. Mr. Norton, a veteran United Fund campaigner."

City Steel Co. A total of 650 building tradesmen participated in the project.

Big Residential Project on Rt. 111 Proposed

By MARION BARTOSIAK Press-Record Staff Writer

Plans for a 772-acre residential, commercial and recreational development in a swampy tract west of the bluffs and north of Old Route 66 were outlined yesterday at a meeting of the Madison County Board of Supervisors.

A recommendation by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals to rezone the area from agricultural district for the purpose led to a controversy in which Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, representing the developers, stressed the importance of immediate approval by the supervisors.

Action on the recommendation was held in abeyance for 60 days, however, following arguments that reports of federal and state soil studies would be made at a meeting here in 45 days. The current board will be in its last regular session at the April meeting.

Sasyk pointed to the success in development of the Arlington Heights subdivision and the addition of millions of dollars to the tax assessment rolls in an area similar to the proposed tract.

Several Phases He said development would be completed over several phases, and each phase would be subjected to official engineering approval on drainage and soil requirements. Arrangements are pending with commercial firms for development along a 1½-mile stretch of highway, and Sasyk said a delay of a year or a year and a half would chase the prospects away to some other location in the country.

The original petition, listing Kelly Durko as owner, asked that the property be rezoned for highway business use, multiple family dwellings, a mobile home park and limited manufacturing uses at the tract located in Chouteau and Edwardsville Townships.

Other Features Sasyk told the board that it also would include a golf course, lakes which would handle drainage, tank type sewers which would discharge 900 pure sewage and piped-in fresh water.

He said engineers for the developers have cooperated with the zoning board and county authorities concerned before the zoning board agreed to approve the plans.

A federal soil conservation agent for Madison County asked for the 45-day delay, but complete opposition was voiced by Dr. George Arnold of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern and a member of the Madison County Citizens Environmental Council.

He pointed to past residential and industrial developments in flood plain areas which destroyed natural drainage and led to current problems here.

Election on County Building

The Madison County Board of Supervisors called a referendum on a proposal to construct a storage-service center building to house the county's 416 voting machines during a meeting Wednesday.

The vote on a $250,000 proposal will ask the electorate to authorize the expense. The balloting will take place at the general election of new county board district representatives on April 4.

Proposed is a 22,500-square foot metal building on one level to be located on the grounds of the old county nursing home at Edwardsville. An alternative location is the old Nike missile base at Marine which the county has acquired from the federal government.

The base has structures which some county board members feel would be adequate to house and service the machines which now are stored in rented quarters in Granite City, Alton and Edwardsville.

Cost in Budget Construction costs are listed in this year's county budget and the board has considered undertaking the project without the necessity of a referendum.

But Marshall Smith, the board's legal adviser, insisted on a referendum and threatened to obtain a court order to prevent the expenditure for the building unless state statutes were followed.

A referendum would have been unnecessary under a public building commission code, but the board dissolved the county's building commission after it had been in effect for a year because of numerous disagreements on building plans.

Smith had opposed the scrapping of the building commission. In other business the board: Adopted a mobile home privilege tax ordinance with a few minor changes from a previous proposal which had been placed on first reading.

It specifically sets aside other taxation on mobile home and deletes a provision for penalties. Penalties for non-payment of the tax will come under provisions of regular tax penalties. The average tax for a mobile home will be $50 a year, payable to the county treasurer.

Employed the firm of R.C. Schell & Co. of Alton to conduct a job classification study of county employees at a cost not to exceed $15,700. It is designed to eliminate inequities between employees of various county departments, establish differentials and compensation, document the nature of positions as they exist, establish pay grades, vacation pay and sick leaves.

The original proposal called for a maximum cost of $55,000, but some details of the study were deleted during committee deliberations.

Grant Second Extension Granted a request by the Board of Review for a second 30-day extension to hear objections expected on 7% increases on property assessments, preliminary.

Funds for Clinic Eased

By GARY SCHNEIDER Press-Record Staff Writer The Madison County Mental Health (708) board apparently has had a change of heart and has granted the Quad-City and Alton mental health centers their full request for funds for the remainder of the fiscal year, ending in November.

The board voted in a meeting at Edwardsville Monday night to raise the Granite City center's appropriation from $83,854 to $105,856 for the current year, an increase of $22,000 per month to a total budget of $9,187 per month for the remaining 10 months of fiscal year.

The budget for the Alton clinic was raised $13,820. In addition, the board approved an $11,851 appropriation as its share of a county-wide school counselor training program and agreed to pay the $5,919 debt and all future shortages in the transportation costs of Specialized Services in Alton, which employs more than 200 handicapped persons.

Controversial Issues "We were good boys last night," Ralph Yerm of Wood River, board chairman, said Tuesday. The matter of funding the clinic and releasing funds for other projects has been highly controversial since proposed budgets were submitted for approval in October. The 708 board has been accused of impeding mental health programs in the county by denying sufficient funds, particularly to the two clinics.

Two professional staff members at the Granite City clinic resigned in December and could not be replaced due to a lack of funds. The additional funds will permit the clinic to seek two new full-time staff members and possibly increase the case load.

The load was frozen at nearly 900 patients in December. A waiting list of 56 persons for screening, and two for treatment, has developed. Another 14 persons have been referred to other facilities because they could not be treated here.

Clinic Vacancies The vacancies include a full time psychiatric social worker and a psychologist for an additional four days per week. One psychologist has been working one day per week at the clinic, filling part of the void.

The present staff at the clinic includes the executive director, William Daumuller, and three full-time and two part-time employees, plus the psychologist one day per week.

The proposals to increase funds for the two clinics were opposed Monday night by Edwin Rieske of Granite City, who accused the clinics of "using" Board Member Sylvester Rucker of Collinsville "to get additional funds any way

Harmony Among Junior High Students Sought

Greater harmony among Madison Junior High School students is the goal of the school district, which is taking a number of steps to achieve it, the Press-Record was told today.

Many procedural changes, including those outlined by the Circuit Court, are being placed in effect. However, the district still retains student expulsion authority and will use it when necessary to maintain order, safety and a climate conducive to study, a spokesman said.

Plans include naming of Wade James as pupil conductor hearing officer, with Emmett Pavia to assist at hearings. New policies include those relating to expulsions from school, suspensions from school and removal of an individual's right to ride school buses.

A full-time security officer has been assigned to the junior high school. Effective this week, lunch periods were reduced from nearly one hour to 30 minutes and between-class periods were trimmed from five to two and a half minutes.

An advisory panel is being formed, including white and black teachers and students. There has been an increase in

Pontoon Enforcing Minibike Regulations

Parents permitting their children to operate minibikes in Pontoon Beach will be charged with traffic violations as well as the children, Roswell Bennett Jr., assistant chief of the village police department, said Tuesday.

Bennett said the village plans to halt illegal operation of minibikes on village streets. Those driving without licenses or proper registration and license plates, will be charged with those violations, he said.

The "crack down" on minibikes is the result of numerous complaints by village residents that children, some of them as young as 10 years of age, have been riding on the streets. Several near accidents have been reported.

3 Promoted by First Granite City National Bank; Assets, Earnings Reach New Records

At the organizational meeting of the board of directors of the First Granite City National Bank following the annual stockholders' meeting Tuesday afternoon, three promotions were approved.

David V. Fox, director of marketing, was appointed president; Herbert S. Camren, assistant cashier, advanced to assistant vice-president; and Ernest P. Elieff, formerly head loan officer, was promoted to assistant cashier.

Paul H. Lichtenberger was re-elected chairman and chief executive officer; Harold R. Fischer vice-chairman; and Samuel E. Pershall Jr., chairman of the executive committee. Melvin C. Wilmseyer again was named as president.

Other officers reappointed were Charles L. Gavin, senior vice-president; Harold G. Bauman, vice-president and trust officer; I. J. Pirman, vice-president, cashier and security officer; Earl Dotzauer, vice-president and auditor; Howard L. Etherton and Walter K. Garlick, vice-presidents; Alex Schenfelder, assistant vice-president; and Edward R. Veeder and Edward Uherick, assistant cashiers.

At the stockholders' meeting, 80,053 shares of the 80,000 shares outstanding were represented in person and by proxy.

Directors re-elected were Harold R. Fischer, Lyle F. Guley, Howard W. Kasseberg, Paul H. Lichtenberger, S. E. Pershall Jr., Carl A. Rant, John W. Reese, Dr. John S. Rendleman, Otto H. Romann, John J. Stolz, Nicholas P. Veeder, Melvin C. Wilmseyer and Marion E. Wilson.

After concluding the formal business of the meeting, Chairman Lichtenberger commented on the results of 1971 operations. He said the total assets of $53,200,000 at the end of the year and net earnings of $379,591 represent new highs for the bank.

Deposits of $50,116,007 at the close of 1971 set a new year-end mark, Lichtenberger reported.

Shareholders were advised that a new advertising and public relations firm had been employed and that a new slogan, "Move Ahead With First Bank," had been adopted.

"Our employees are very excited about our new program," Lichtenberger said, "and I am confident that their efforts will generate a substantial amount of new business for the bank."

The chairman reminded the assembled shareholders that Feb. 19 will mark the completion of 12 years of occupancy in the new building at Edison Avenue and 20th Street.

At the time this move was being considered, there was considerable doubt that we would have been justified in this expansion," Lichtenberger said.

"Fortunately for everyone concerned, a substantial majority of our directors had the faith and confidence in the future of our area to approve the plans for a new building. Results have proved the wisdom of their decision."

"Total assets of the bank on Dec. 31, 1969, immediately preceding our move, were $32,600,000, and on Dec. 31, 1971, assets had grown to $53,200,000, an increase of over 60%."

"We are today taking care of many more people more rapidly and efficiently and have been able to offer a growing variety of financial services to our community."

Commenting on the outlook for 1972, Lichtenberger called attention to a drastic decline in interest rates which has occurred over the past six months. He said, "While the interest rate decline had only a small effect on our 1971 earnings, unless there is some upward adjustment in the interest rate pattern, it will be very difficult to match last year's results in 1972."

"Many banks have reduced the rate of interest paid on time deposits in the past few months. We have continued paying the highest rates permitted by federal regulations and are very reluctant to lower these rates. If this trend continues, however, we will have no alternative but to make some changes."

"Business predictions for 1972 are generally favorable and our assets should share in any improvement in the economic picture," Chairman Lichtenberger continued.

"The recent devaluation of the dollar in terms of foreign currencies should improve our competitive position in world markets and likewise reduce to some extent the flow of imports produced with cheap labor in foreign countries. This should be of major help in reducing unemployment in America."

"On behalf of the management of this bank, I would like to express our appreciation to all of our stockholders for their interest and help in building their bank. I would also be remiss if I did not recognize the efforts of our employees and officers."

"The results of their efforts are reflected in our balance sheet and earnings statement. Their loyalty and devotion to your bank, our most valuable asset, cannot be measured in terms of dollars."

Procedure For Auto Refunds Still in Court

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — Procedures for auto dealers to follow in making refunds of repeated federal excise taxes on autos have been confused by recent Chicago court actions, according to department of revenue personnel.

Willard Ice, of the regulations and hearings division of the department, said his staff has been advising dealers to wait until some decision is reached on the Chicago cases.

Until recently, Ice said, dealers had been making refunds themselves to purchasers, then filing claims against the state revenue department for the amounts they had paid out. This was done, he said, under existing legislation that provides only the person paying a tax to the department can file a claim for a refund on the payment.

However, the suit filed in a Chicago Circuit Court, he said, seeks to have the court appoint a bank as trustee to represent the refunds of repeated federal excise taxes. The department would issue a credit memo to the bank which would sell it, and after taking out expenses and any losses, would then use the proceeds to make refunds directly to the customer, from information supplied by the auto manufacturer.

One hearing already has been held on the suit, and another is scheduled March 3. Ice said, though the judge could take the matter under advisement for some indefinite period after that, or could even set another date for more court hearings.

"Consumers don't need to worry about delays keeping them from getting refunds, even if the suit is turned down," Ice said, "since they have about three years to file claims."

Regional Report -- Election, Construction, Planning News Employment by Steel Producers Lowest Since '39

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Voters nominated candidates to appear on St. Clair and Madison County ballots for county boards in the April 4 general election.

In St. Clair County, where primaries were held in 17 of the 29 districts, six incumbents lost and seven won.

In primaries held in 20 of the 29 districts in Madison County, 10 incumbents failed and 10 were successful.

In St. Clair County, where redistricting trimmed the number of board positions from 30 to 29, losing incumbents, in most instances, were opposed by other incumbent members of the board of supervisors.

Primaries were held only in those districts in which more than one person was seeking the nomination.

The Granite City Council approved an ordinance that provides for the vacating of short sections of streets in a tract of land for a $1.5 million shopping center complex on the Nameoki-Pontoon Roads area, thereby clearing the way for construction of the shopping center.

It will contain a Schnuck's market, a Carps department store and several other retail stores.

Contracts have been awarded and work will start soon on a $20 million expansion and modernization program to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville. The three-year project will increase the capacity of the hospital to over 500 beds, making it the largest hospital in Illinois south of Springfield. Ground-breaking ceremonies for the large hospital project will be held today.

Several East St. Louis city officials released the "new city" proposal they presented to federal officials and the Illinois Congressional delegation in Washington, D.C., last month.

The five-page brochure outlines in very general terms the concept of a new core area for East St. Louis with a shopping center, a civic center housing a new city hall, a junior college campus, a state office building and perhaps other educational buildings. Locations for the new core area development are identified as large tracts, east of the present central portion of the city, which the city hopes to annex.

East St. Louis Republican businessman James D. Pritte was appointed by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to replace Morris Campbell on the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees.

Pritte will serve on the board until Dec. 1. A new five-man board of trustees for the levee district will be elected from St. Clair and Madison Counties in November.

With less than 50 acres acquired of the 3,100 acres needed for Horseshoe Lake State Park, negotiations for the land are reported to have come to a standstill. Acquisition has virtually halted because of conflicts in state and federal laws.

Hubert Jackson, 55, Dies; Former Resident

Hubert "Jack" Jackson, 55, of Sorento, Ill., a resident of Granite City for 33 years, died at 9 p.m. Monday at the Hillsboro Hospital, Hillsboro, Ill. He was born in Rives, Tenn., and came to Granite City in 1928. He attended Granite City Schools and was employed at General Steel Industries for 14 years. Later, he worked for the GM&O Railroad in Venice for 18 years.

Mr. Jackson was a U.S. Navy veteran of World War II and was a member of the Veterans of Foreign War Post 1300.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Jackson, an 11-year old son, Donald Jackson, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Larry (Peggy) Herzog and Mrs. Jim (Nancy) Walker, both of Granite City; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Bruce (Kathryn) Wilbur of Ashland, Mo., and Miss Marilyn Ruemmler of Springfield, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Gordon (Mary) Carlton of Collinsville and Mrs. Walter (Virginia) Gasparovic of Granite City, an three grandchildren. A brother, Raymond, Jackson preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

A committee of the Illinois Department of Transportation which reviews bids before forwarding them to the Federal Highway Administration has recommended approval of a construction bid for rebuilding the intersection of U.S. 50 and Illinois 159 in Fairview Heights. The $5 million bid submitted at a Jan. 27 letting by Hoeft Bros., Inc., of Belleville, is 7.8% over the state estimate. However, the state is said to be asking that it be awarded because of extremely heavy traffic at the Fairview Heights intersection.

In other transportation news, an East-West Gateway Coordinating Council task force has selected five finalists for a contract to do a $465,000 East St. Louis railroad relocation study. Representatives from the five consortiums of consulting firms will be interviewed Feb. 18 and the task force will try to reach a decision at its March 3 meeting.

Employment by Steel Producers Lowest Since '39

Washington — Domestic steel industry employment costs per hour reached an all-time high persons during 1971—a drop of 43,827 persons from the 1970 average of 531,196 persons, and the lowest yearly employment figure in 32 years.

The Institute said steelmakers in the U.S. paid out $5,182,942,000 in wages and salaries last year. In 1970, these costs were a record of $6.26 per hour for $5,233,735,000.

During December, total industry employment was 438,397 — a slight rise from the previous month's 428,765 persons.

Highlights of the Institute's steel industry employment report included:

Total employment costs per hour by hourly employees: $7.00 in December 1971, compared with a $6.68 average for 1970. The employee benefits included in the total (pensions, insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portion of savings and vacation plan costs and legally required payroll taxes) are partly estimated.

Average hours worked per week by wage earners: 34.3 in December 1971, compared with 35.6 hours in November and 34.4 hours in October.

Burglars stole a color television from the home of Sam Pershall Sr., 2433 Cleveland Blvd., police were told at 9:10 a.m. yesterday. The window in the rear door was broken. The door was found open.

Two Charges Filed in Landfill Controversy

Two charges were filed in warrants authorized by the circuit court against Lloyd Dodd, a former employee of the old Chouteau Island landfill, after 110 barrels of toxic and flammable chemicals were dumped in the landfill area last week, according to Paul Hawkins, Madison County sanitation official. The landfill has been closed.

Hawkins said Dodd has admitted that he permitted a trucker to dump the barrels in the landfill, but that Dodd claims he did not know the truck driver and did not know what was in the barrels. Dodd recalled that the truck carried an Evanston, Mo. address. Dodd lives on the landfill and serves as a caretaker, Hawkins said.

Charges of operating a dump without a permit, and for dumping hazardous materials in a landfill without a written permit have been filed against Dodd, Hawkins said. In addition, Samuel Murphy of St. Louis, owner of the property, has been notified by the sanitation office that the barrels must be removed from the dump by Friday.

Hawkins said the barrels contained paint thinner, paint oil and naphtha solvent. Some of the barrels had been dumped at the time sanitation officials and the sheriff's department made its investigation, Hawkins added.

Madison Crimes Drop 30% in '71, Council is Told

Major crimes in the city of Madison decreased by 30.1% during 1971, the city council was told in an annual police department report submitted by Chief of Police Frank Dutko.

The report listed five factors which enabled the department to operate more efficiently in 1971 than the department to operate more efficiently in 1970 than in 1969. They were:

1—Approval of federal and state grants.

2—An increase in the number of uniformed policemen.

3—The establishment of juvenile and investigation divisions within the department.

4—The reorganization of the chain of command permitting closer supervision of men and the work load.

5—The cooperation and assistance received from the mayor and the city council.

The report also showed that 16,995 more crimes in the city were cleared by arrest in 1971 than in 1970.

Assault, Burglaries Down
Five categories of major crimes decreased from 1970 to 1971, while two increased, the report showed. Cases of rape declined from eight to two, assault was down from 123 to 79, burglary reports declined from 172 to 107, the number of larceny and theft reports dropped from 268 to 261 and the number of auto theft reports declined substantially from 114 to 49, Dutko reported.

Criminal homicide increased from one to two, and robbery cases increased by one, from 17 to 18. The total number of major crimes reported in the city declined from 728 in 1970 to 509 in 1971, a 29.8 percent decrease, the report showed.

In 1970, 150 of the 728 cases reported were cleared by arrest, or 20.5%. Last year, 107 of the 509 reported major offenses were cleared, or 20.9%.

Dutko warned that the decrease in crimes "does not mean that we can let up on the fine work being done by the department but we must remain alert to assure continued progress in service for you, the city council, and the people of the city of Madison."

Mayor Mike Sasyk pointed out that the 30.1% decrease in major crimes in 1971, coupled with the 51% decrease in 1970, vividly shows that crime in the city has been reduced to a fraction of what it was just two years ago.

"The policemen are doing a real fine job and we should be glad we have a good police department," Mayor Mike Sasyk said.

Public Anti-Abortion Program Set Saturday

The Illinois Right to Life Committee of Chicago is sponsoring an information workshop from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the Stratford Hotel in Alton. The public is invited to attend.

Speakers will be Dr. Robert Dohide, medical, Larry Patterson, legal, and Mrs. Robert Dohide, representing childbirth. Each offers help for the pregnant and distressed.

The program will include two presentations. One, a movie entitled "The Committee," won two "Emmy" awards last year in Chicago. Slides portraying a life before birth, death after an abortion also will be screened, followed by a discussion on "Now, What Can We Do About It?"

Fees for the seminar and luncheon are $4.50 for adults and $2.50 for students. Registration fee of $2 and $1 will be charged persons not attending the 12:30 p.m. lunch.

The Illinois Right to Life Committee was incorporated as a non-profit organization Dec. 1, 1971. Three of four programs are given throughout the state each month to acquaint the public with the group's anti-abortion position, a local spokesman explained.

Special Levee Meet On Payroll, Budget

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District Board of Trustees be met in special meeting tomorrow and will decide then if all three members of the board attend — whether or not the district is to receive the $10 payroll of $32,050, eight days late.

The payroll for the last half of January has not been approved because of lack of a quorum at a meeting Feb. 9. Edition, the district was without funds at that time to meet the payroll which was due Feb. 10.

Since that time some funds have been made available through collection of back taxes and district officials believe enough money may be raised to give the district's 108 employees their paychecks. There still is little prospect of meeting the Feb. 25 payroll for the first half of February, however.

Failure to hold the Feb. 9 meeting also delayed adoption of the budget which is necessary before the board can pass a tax levy and self anticipation warrant to finance district operations until 1972 tax collections are made next summer.

The board also expects to act on its 1972 budget in tomorrow's meeting, if a quorum appears. At least three members, the full membership of the present board, are required to conduct district business.

Lacks Equipment
He also said the firm lacks direct and sufficient heavy equipment, and when Murphy's operations were inspected on 23 previous visits, the landfill was in non-compliance 18 times.

Buester strengthened his argument by stating that the landfill was closed March 28 and 29, 1968, by the county and state, but on the following April 2, it was back in operation in violation of the orders.

Andy Rappoff represented Murphy with a letter informing the board that a lease agreement has been reached to have LeMear United Disposal Corp. operate the landfill as new owners and current operators of the adjacent MALL landfill.

Following the decision on the bluff area development, Dale Kennedy, Godfrey Township supervisor, questioned the authority of the courts to override the board and said that in previous appeals, members of the board as defendants had been uninformed of appeals or of pending action by the court.

It also was asked why judicial opinions were not appealed, and Smith noted that five such cases are now pending in the appellate court.

Slump in State Acquisition of Land for Parks

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — Land acquisition for development of Lake Defiance State Park in McHenry County accounted for the biggest single activity in Conservation Department acquisitions during the 1971 calendar year.

Robert Corrigan, of the land acquisition division, said the department acquired 5,000 acres during the year, considerably less than the totals in immediately preceding years.

In 1970, for instance, the department acquired 22,291 acres, and in 1969, 21,174 acres. Corrigan said current expectations are that the department will gain possession of some 10,000 acres more during the 1972 calendar year.

Total acreage of 1,500 to 1,600 acres is planned for the Lake Defiance project, where between 800 and 900 acres already have been acquired, Corrigan said.

The new park, located south of the town of McHenry and adjacent to the existing McHenry Dam State Park, will center around an existing glacial lake on the tract. The new park will be near the McHenry-Lake County line.

Some funds are expected to be available to begin park development, at Lake Defiance during fiscal 1973, Corrigan said.

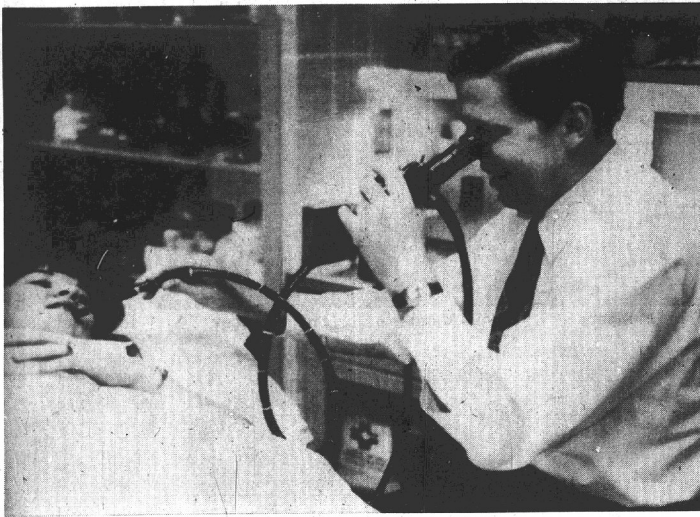

One reason for the decline in acreage acquired during the last calendar year, Corrigan said, was increased emphasis on projects in established areas.

He cited Illinois Beach State Park as an example, where 1,600 parcels of land are involved in plans to expand that park along Lake Michigan.

More than 275 homes already on the property are involved, he said, and in acquisitions of this type, each acquisition action may involve only a fraction of an acre.

Another large acquisition during the last year was 500 acres acquired for Shiabona State Park, now being established in DeKalb county.

Other property acquired through the year was generally

MODERN MEDICINE as practiced today at St. Elizabeth Hospital utilizes numerous complicated looking and expensive pieces of equipment. A recent addition is this esophago-gastro-duodenoscope which can be used to actually look inside the esophagus.

scattered throughout the state, Corrigan said.

The 5,010-acre figure included all property acquired by the Conservation Department for all purposes, both for park use and for such departmental uses as nature preserves and conservation areas.

Diagnostic Aid Boon to GC Physician In Verifying Need of Stomach Surgery

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

A patient at St. Elizabeth who likely would have undergone surgery, was relieved from the operation when new diagnostic equipment was used for the first time and revealed that a small stomach ulcer was healing well and surgery was not required.

The patient had been complaining of pain from the ulcer.

stomach and duodenum to analyze problems without surgery. The $10,000 unit is the personal property of Dr. Obert M. Lay, right, who demonstrates here its use on Nurse Laura Limberg in the hospital emergency room.

Customarily, surgery would have been necessary to determine the size and condition of the ulcer. Under sedation, he simply swallowed a long flexible tube and doctors were given a perfect magnified lighted view of his stomach lining and the ulcer.

The tube was part of the $10,000 esophago-gastro-duodenoscope unit purchased by Dr. Obert M. Lay of the hospital staff. Dr. Lay, a surgeon, has watched development of the unit for 10 years, looking forward to the day he would be able to use it to avoid surgery on his patients if medication could cure their problems.

Japanese Invention
First invented in Japan, the unit originally was a clumsy, stiff tube. Inserted in the patient's mouth and down the esophagus it gave a limited view of the stomach. Five years ago, the perfection of fiber optics, the transmission of an image through a series of plastic strands, made possible the present flexible tube which can be turned and directed by the doctor through the digestive system to provide a clear view of any portion of the system.

Dr. Lay returned Monday from a weekend session at the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans, La., on the use of the scope and its results. It was said that 30% to 40% of operations formerly performed for digestive tract problems now can be prevented by use of the scope.

It can be used not only to locate ulcers, tumors and polyps, but can show the size of the problem area and even take a sample of the inflamed tissue for laboratory diagnosis while the patient is on the operating table.

Remove Small Tissue
Through a small tube within the flexible scope, a small set of pinchers can be introduced which will cut off and remove a sample which can be used to determine if the ulcer, tumor or polyp is malignant or benign. Armed with this information, the doctors have better formation with which to decide if surgery is necessary.

Formerly, x-rays were used to locate ulcers and other problems, but could not indicate the precise size of the ulcer or if it was malignant.

Asked if the scope gives a clear picture or still needs perfecting, Dr. Lay commented, "The picture is fantastic. You can do anything with the instrument."

For several reasons, Dr. Lay can not allow other doctors at the hospital to use the scope, but he said he will be available to use it for any doctor's patient in the hospital.

Madison Oks 3 New Stop Signs

The Madison City Council Tuesday night agreed to erect stop signs at three locations in the city where hazards to children walking to and from school were cited.

The aldermen requested the legal department draft ordinances for placing stop signs at Sixth Street and Elving Avenue, halting eastbound and westbound traffic, and at Sixth and Rhodes streets, requiring southbound traffic to stop. Additional signs at 10th and Lee streets were requested.

At the request of Chief of Police Frank Dutko, the council granted permission for six policemen to attend a burglary investigation course at Belleville Area College March 15. The city will pay $15 per man enrollment to the Police Academy course.

Dan Caffrey Jr. was accepted as a new volunteer fireman on the recommendation of Eldon Rhodes, fire chief.

The city's legal department was asked to draft a proclamation naming April 16-22 Library Week in Madison. Mayor Mike Sasyk said, "I think this is a fine thing and we should encourage our residents to visit our fine library more often."

Bills for the first half of February totaling $30,055 were approved, including $12,973 in city employees salaries, $1,056 in aldermen's salaries, $2,915 in monthly employees' salaries and $1,065 in expenses for aldermen and employees.

Candy Wagon Stolen

Becky DeRuntz, 2143 Grand Ave., reported at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday that while she was in the city hall selling candy, someone stole a red wagon she used to haul the candy while it was parked outside.

Rev. Otis Runyon, 58, Retired Pastor, Dies

The Rev. Otis Runyon, 58, of 3340 Village Lane, retired pastor of the State Street Assembly of God Church in East St. Louis where he served for 11 years, died at 11 p.m. Sunday in the Lee Memorial Hospital, Marianna, Ark.

He apparently suffered a stroke while visiting in Texas and was taken to the Arkansas hospital.

The Rev. Runyon had been serving with the General Council of Assembly of God Churches since his retirement. Born in Kansas, he resided in East St. Louis prior to moving to this area four years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Hazel (Hale) Runyon; three daughters, Mrs. Floyd (Faith) Porter of Monticello, Utah; Mrs. Thomas (Nelma) Carpenter of Marianna, Ark.; and Mrs. Larry (LaVonne) Wimberly of Austin, Tex.; a son, James Otis Runyon, of Granite City; one brother, James W. Runyon of Honolulu, Hawaii; and eleven grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m. today at the State Street Assembly of God Church with the Rev. Richard Dorch, District Superintendent of Assembly of God Church from Carlinville, and the Rev. John Polizza, pastor of the Tri-City Park Tabernacle in Granite City officiating. Burial was in Mount Hope Cemetery, Belleville.

Injured in Mishap

Jenny M. Hood, 412 Madison Ave., Madison, was injured when her eastbound car struck the parked car of Halbert Robinson, 1800 Fifth St., Madison, at Fifth Street and Washington Avenue, Madison, at 7:20 p.m. Tuesday. She suffered a laceration to her left leg but declined hospital treatment.

Seek More Data On Conversion Of Coal to Gas

Copley News Service

Springfield — A preliminary report on possible sites for establishing coal gasification plants in Illinois has been returned for additional work to the Institute for Gas Technology by the Institute for Environmental Quality, which commissioned the $45,000 study.

Only half the $48,000 has been paid to date on the report. Michael Schneiderman, director of the Institute for Environmental Quality, said the remaining payment will be withheld until the final version is accepted.

The IGT was given until Feb. 29 to supply the updated and augmented report.

Schneiderman said the report was well worth the $24,000 paid to date, as it stands, but that it leaves many areas unexplored and that much documentation is missing.

For instance, Schneiderman said, the IGT used as a source for information on existing coal reserves in the state, a comprehensive study done in the early 1950s by the Army Corps of Engineers. This report was superseded a few years later by another study.

"Maybe the two reports are very similar," Schneiderman said, "but we just don't know. We feel the report should show which study they used, and why."

Another problem, he said, was that the report mentions problems bound to arise in establishing coal gasification plants, but fails to follow the line of inquiry further, to suggest how the problems should be met.

"The report says that gasification needs a huge amount of water," Schneiderman said, "and says the state should give some serious thought to this. But it doesn't suggest what might actually be done."

It even mentions the Oakley Reservoir, but it doesn't follow through with how much time would be needed, and how many millions of dollars or how much farm land would have to be flooded, to create another Oakley Reservoir.

Conversion of coal into gas has been recommended both as a means of reducing air pollution and a method of bolstering the Illinois coal industry, which has been hit by declining demands for the state's high-sulphur coal.

What's behind Volkswagen's new low price?

The Best Warranty This Side of a Rolls-Royce

You can't put a price on the warranty you get with a Volkswagen. You see, a Volkswagen warranty runs twice as long as anybody else's small car warranty. And only one car, the Rolls-Royce, has one better.

Here's how our works: All you do is mention the car according to the Volkswagen maintenance schedule if any factory part is found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 25,000 miles, whichever comes first, we'll repair or replace it free of charge. See your dealer for details.

More Than 5,000 Inspections Per Car

The story behind our warranty starts at the factory. Where 1,104 tie-picking inspectors have one job and one job only: To find something wrong with a Volkswagen before that Volkswagen finds its way out of the factory.

Every one of the more than 5,000 parts that go into a VW is carefully examined. Some of them get the once-over two or three times. If one of our inspectors is unhappy with only one of the parts, the whole car gets pulled off the line. Sometimes we pull as many as 225 VWs a day. But it's worth it. We pick the lemon. You get the plans.

The Most Advanced Service System In The World

No other car maker anywhere can offer you Volkswagen's ultrasensitive Electronic Diagnosis. It's designed to spot problems in your Volkswagen when they're at the minor adjustment stage. Long before they can do any real damage to your car or your wallet. Every one of our dealers has VW Diagnosis. And you get the first four check-ups free with a new VW.

The Highest Resale Value

Based on what's happened in the past, no other economy car on the road holds its value after 3 or 4 years as well as a Volkswagen. So, if you're thinking about buying a new car, think about what's going to be worth when it's an old car. Because when the time comes to part company with your VW, you won't be left holding the bag. Unless that's what you carry your money in.

The Most Highly Developed Car Ever Built

Economy cars come and go. Volkswagen's just keep going. One reason is our 1600cc aluminum-magnesium engine. It's rear-mounted for better traction on slick roads. And it's air-cooled for better performance in hot waves or cold spells. The underside of the Beetle has a steel, urethane bottom to protect its vital parts. The outside of the Volkswagen carries 13 pounds of paint. The body of the car is put together so precisely that it's practically airtight. In all, more than 2,200 changes and advances have gone into today's Beetle. And most of them were designed to make the car run better and last longer. Not just look different.

No other car maker has put so much time and so many advances and changes into one car. You see, there's more to a Volkswagen than meets the eye.

Under $2000. Again.

Sectional Mat Action Starts Friday, Nine Warriors Entered

Nine Warrior wrestlers will be among the 96 district champions and runners-up competing for advancement to the state level during the high school sectional wrestling tournament here tomorrow and Saturday.

Competition in the Granite City High School gym will begin at 7 p.m. Friday with the early elimination rounds. The second session will begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday with the semi-final and consolation rounds. The final, second-place bouts and final consolation matches are planned for 7 p.m. Saturday.

The first and second place winners in each of the 12 weight classes in the sectional will advance to the state finals at Illinois State University in Bloomington the following weekend.

Warriors entered in the competition are Phil Lapinski (98), Harry Miller (112), Kerry Johnson (119), Kevin Niebur (126), Doug Wilson (132), Charlie Mayfield (138), Jack Schooley (167), Tom Kalert (185) and Craig Stephens (heavyweight).

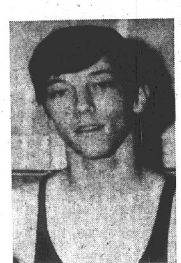

Johnson, Niebur, Wilson, Schooley, Kalert and Stephens were champions in the district meet at Wood River last weekend. Gary Loy (160), finished third in the district meet and is an alternate to the sectional. The Warriors are favored, having more wrestlers entered than any other school.

The nine will meet the winners of this weekend's events, Springfield and Decatur district tournaments.

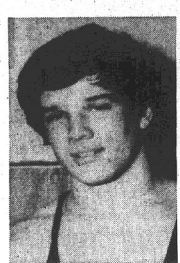

Only two area qualifiers from the sectional are expected this year, Wilson and Mike Reeder of Belleville East, both runners-up last year. Wilson finished fourth in the state finals last year and currently is riding a streak of 37 consecutive match victories.

The Warriors won the district competition with 127½ points last week while East St. Louis Lincoln was second with 76½ points and Roxana was third with 62½. Lincoln qualified four wrestlers, Roxana two and Wood River, Edwardsville, Warrensburg one.

All Star Game Set at Bradley

The college division basketball player will have an opportunity to show his talents against the university division player if present plans are completed for a proposed March 13 all-star game in Bradley's Robertson Memorial Field House.

Plans for the game were told by Mike Lyons of Peoria who has the support of the Kiwanis Club in an endeavor to raise some funds for the S.O.S. drive to "Save Our Stadium". It is a campaign to improve Peoria's Public High School football structure.

Already having received approval of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) for the game, Lyons has moved ahead with assistance and advice from sports writers and announcers, Bradley officials and Kiwanis members.

Plans call for two 10-man squads to be selected.

The university classified schools in Illinois are Bradley, DePaul, Loyola, Illinois, Illinois State, Northern Illinois, Northwestern and Southern Illinois. All other schools within the state are in the college division.

Warriors Can Win Share of League Cage Title at Alton

Granite City and Alton High Schools will clash for a share of the Southwestern Conference basketball championship at 8:15 p.m. Friday at Alton's West Junior High School gym.

GCIS and Alton's Red Birds both have 5-4 conference records, and the winner will gain a tie for the title with Belleville West which has finished its season with a 6-4 record.

"Granite City has not tied or won the Southwestern Conference since 1948," Coach Don Detering said.

"The Warriors have had several real good teams over the years and have finished second on several occasions, but that's as high as we have gotten."

"Alton will be a tough school to take on. We beat them before 78-75 (Jan. 8) and it was tough. They are a real physical team, very strong and very tall. Dyer (Kevin) will have to do an exceptional job for us. He is 6-3 but he is going to have to take care of a 6-8 center named Harrison (Barry). He is a real physical guy and out of school."

In addition to Harrison, Alton has two tall forwards in 6-5 (Dan) Ewing and 6-4 (Rick) Minor and three top guards, 6-1 Calvin Hightower, 6-0 Matt Heinrichs and 6-0 Lafayette Collins.

Alton has no outstanding scorers, but the Birds' starting five has hit in the double figures.

Alton defeated conference leaders Belleville West Saturday 72-65.

Alton has an overall game record of 15-7, and GCIS is 14-6.

Other teams in the conference standings are Edwardsville 4-5 and East St. Louis 4-5 and Collinsville 4-6.

BILL CANNON

Cannon Setting Marks at WVC

Bill Cannon, former Madison High School basketball ace, achieved scoring honors for the Washburn Valley College Warriors when he counted 42 points against Kaskaskia Junior College.

It was the highest individual scoring for any WVC Warrior during the current basketball season. In addition to the 42 points, Cannon pulled off 22 rebounds in the game.

Against Southeastern Junior College three nights later, Cannon continued the sizzling pace as he again took game scoring honors with 29 points and came off the boards with 26 rebounds.

Earlier in the season, Cannon had set a new rebound record at the Rend Lake Holiday Tourney when his 25 rebounds broke the previous statistics for most rebounds scored by an individual in a single game.

A 6' 3" sophomore at Washburn Valley College, in Mt. Carmel, Cannon is the son of Mrs. Maggie Cannon of Madison and graduated from Madison High School in 1970.

Cannon's plans for the future include graduation in June from Washburn Valley College, and then a bachelor's degree, looking forward to a career in city recreation. He worked as assistant to the director of the

Trojans Triumph In Cahokia Game

The basketball Trojans of Madison High School proved that they still are capable of victory as they sent Cahokia home in defeat by an 81-71 count Tuesday night at the local gym.

The success came Coach Larry Graham's charges an 8-13 record for the season, a year that could have ranked them among the top teams in the state had it not been for pre-season events which rattled the team of its top veterans.

Cahokia's Comanches made a battle of it during the first half. The Trojans led by a point at 24-23 at the end of the first quarter and it was tied at 43-43 at the intermission. Madison then put on the steam in the third stanza and went into the final period with a 63-54 advantage.

Madison outshot Cahokia 33 to 28 from the field while Cahokia connected 16 times from the free-throw line.

Ed Chandler led the Trojan attack with 22 points, followed by Vernell Glasper with 17, Terrance Young 12, Emory Wilson 7 and Sam Byrd and Roger Glasper 4.

The Trojans will host Robinson at an 8:15 p.m. game Friday.

10-4 Foils Fuzz Again By 47-44

Explorer Post 10-4 again foiled the combined efforts of the Venice and Madison police with "assistance" of the Madison County Sheriff's Department by a 47-44 count in their second shoot-out last night at the Venice school gym.

Dewey Brawley, Venice police chief, when asked to comment on the second basketball defeat of his team, took the "Fifth Amendment."

Madison investigator Paul Bargiel, who coached the police squad, commented, "Since February is Boy Scout month and the Madison department sponsors 10-4, we decided to let the kids win. We'll play again in March and Boy Scout month will be over."

Larry Graham and Gordon Schooby, both Madison High School coaches, refereed the contest. The refs called a "letter of the law" and called numerous technical fouls.

The basketball Cougars of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern found another way to lose one Monday night as the University of Missouri-Kansas City slipped past them 77-75 in the Edwardsville High School gym.

James bucketed seven field goals during the Cougars trailed 48-36 at the half. He totaled 14 points.

MORE ABOUT Election
arily in Granite City and Wood River Townships.

Dale Hill, supervisor of assessments, told the board that an increase in the total county assessment is necessary to prevent a 1.10 multiplier which the state revenue department said would be applied. It would mean a 10% increase on taxable properties in the county, he said.

Hill said the multiplier could be applied at any time, and the Review Board would have to be in session to file a petition objecting to it.

The 7% increase could be in effect for one year, Hill said, and agreed that it is unfair to senior citizens and to industry.

He said the Board of Review has been in consultations with area industries, including those in the Quad-Cities, which he said are financially "sick," and "we don't want to lose them."

"Save Them 10%," Smith commented that "we don't know what they (industries) are worth. If we hit them with 7%, we save them the 10%."

Entered into a 7½ year contract with International Business Machines (IBM) to purchase data processing equipment, at a total cost of $473,214.62.

The cost this year will be $19,414 which has been appropriated, and the highest annual cost will be $81,900 in 1974 at the start of the second phase of the development which include implementation of the county real estate tax program.

Smith said the program not only would streamline county business affairs but eventually will save taxpayers a quarter of a million dollars a year. He doubted that it would result in a decrease in the number of county employees.

Amended the county budget for tax collection purposes from $216,000 to more than $250,000 to provide for salaries and costs of township tax collectors.

Amounts allocated, determined by the request of the township collectors, include Granite City Township, $21,941; Venice Township, $18,600; Nunn Township, $11,630.01; and Chouteau Township, $9,761.50.

The township accounts will be subject to county audit.

Joined other counties in adopting a resolution calling for the state to pay the same recorder fee of deeds fees and costs in filing documents as paid in ordinary transactions.

Accepted bids of 14.1 cents per gallon for gasoline and 11.6 cents per gallon for fuel oil (heating) for the county sheriff's new service station. It was noted that savings on gasoline amounts to 20 cents a gallon.

Appropriated $7,000 as the county share of a court management study to be financed mostly by the Southern Illinois Law Enforcement Agency. The county is expected to be credited for time and services in lieu of the monetary expenditure.

Buy New Cars
Purchased three sheriff's cars from Cassels & Sons Agency of Edwardsville at a cost of $9,224. A lower bid was received from the Bu Buuckman Agency of Collinsville but the cars failed to fit specifications.

Approved board committee appointments by Neil Hagg, new board chairman. Included are William Straube of Edwardsville, chairman of the finance committee; Louis White of Nameeki Township, zoning committee; J. J. Gramlich of Highland, finance committee; and H. J. Frandsen, newly appointed supervisor of Alhambra Township, rabies committee.

Nameeki to Begin Budget Meetings

Arrangements for preparation of the 1972-73 budget were initiated by the Nameeki Township during regular meeting Monday night. The board authorized Town Clerk Douglas Teator to call a meeting of the Citizens Committee to discuss the budget with town officials.

Teator said he expects to arrange a series of budget meetings beginning next week. The new fiscal year for all Nameeki township funds, including the town fund, general assistance fund and road and bridge fund, will begin April 1 this year.

In the past the town and general assistance budgets were effective April 1 while the road and bridge fiscal began on Sept. 1.

The board also agreed to assist Pontoon Beach in control of stray dogs. An agreement under which the township's rabies control officers will extend activities into the village will be drawn by Township Attorney William Schooley for approval at a later meeting.

Joseph Cohen, township tax assessor, was requested to provide the town board with an estimate of property assessments in the unincorporated areas adjoining the city of Madison to determine the feasibility of general assistance fund.

Granite City Rotarians were told Tuesday by William Monical, scout executive of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council, that expansion of exploring is being emphasized through formation of medical and other special-interest posts.

In his Boy Scout Month talk, Monical said scouting here currently serves 42% of boys of cub (8-10) age, 25% of scout (11-13) age and 8% of explorer (14-21) age. An entirely new national approach to the 11-13 group is to be unveiled this fall, he added. He was introduced by Rev. Roy Baugh and President A. H. Froeliching presided.

Decision on Hospital Need Slated March 15

Loss of desired federal tax aid appears possible for five proposed hospitals — one at Routes 162-159 and four in St. Louis County — unless each can present convincing evidence that more hospitals are needed March 15 to the Alliance for Regional Community Health.

A month's delay in ARCH action was decided on after a three-hour meeting yesterday in which many Collinsville-Edwardsville area residents urged approval. The Physical Health Committee of ARCH yesterday recommended denial of all five projects.

Creation of a Madison County health district is to be the topic of a meeting tonight.

Officers re-elected were: president, Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Granite City Steel Co., a subsidiary of National Steel Corp.; executive vice-president, Richard Shoemaker, president of Brown Shoe Co.; vice-president, Michael Wilinski, headquarters executive for special assignments, McDonnell Douglas Corp.; secretary, C. E. New members of the board who have been elected for three-year terms are Mrs. John W. Fries, Wayne L. Millsaps, Mrs. Robert H. Orchard and Donald

Anti-Pollution Walk And Rally Saturday

An anti-pollution rally and walk will be held in Granite City Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. from Civic park in downtown Granite City.

The walk will end at Wilson Park where the participants will then clean the park by picking up paper and debris cluttering the grounds.

An anti-pollution rally will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 2801 Clark St.

Rev. Larry Swain, associate pastor of Tri-City Park Tabernacle said, "The goal of Saturday's activities are twofold. First, we want to get people to really stop and think about our environment. Second, we want to distribute anti-pollution literature."

MORE ABOUT McKay

paigier, brought into our area a host of new ideas and enthusiasm. He is deep-thinking by all of us and knew and worked with him.

"General Campaign Chairman Lyle Gully provided outstanding leadership to the hundreds of volunteers until he was stricken seriously ill."

"Paul H. Kelly, vice-chairman, assumed leadership and valiantly led the volunteers through the remainder of the drive," Becker related.

"Even though the drive itself ended short of the original goal, we succeeded in raising more money than ever before in the history of our United Fund, thus insuring that the agencies serving so many needy people within our community will continue their good work in 1972."

"We are confident as we enter 1972. Preparations are being made for an even greater effort this year, so that we may adequately provide for our many worthwhile agencies."

"With your continued support, I know this will be done."

"I wish to express my appreciation to all who worked hard and hard on behalf of the United Fund—the board of directors, office staff, executive and other committees, and most important of all, the volunteer workers. I feel very privileged to have been associated with such an outstanding group of citizens this past year."

Campaign Co-Chairman Kelly said, "A review of campaign statistics for the past twelve years shows that dollars received increased from $24,000 to $269,975."

"This 35% increase was attained in small annual increases by concerned citizens through hard work and by refusing to become discouraged even though faced with economic setbacks and growing unemployment in our community."

"I am pleased to report the 1972 United Fund campaign organization carried on this tradition of determined responsibility set by its predecessors."

"As we review past campaigns, we can see there has always been adversity which could have caused discouragement. But, on the other hand, there have been results achieved which not only offset the losses but brought about our long-range progress."

"As most of us know, 1971 was not a good year for Tri-Cities industry. Many of our leading employers for various reasons had to reduce output, and employees suffered accordingly."

"Nevertheless, those employees who remained at work pushed up the slack and made 100% of the goal for the Industrial Employees Group."

"A second major accomplishment this year, representing the dedication of a barrier of red tape, must be mentioned as one of the highlights of the campaign."

"The Combined Federated Campaign conducted at various government offices in the St. Louis area enabled residents of the Tri-Cities area who work for the federal government to designate the Tri-Cities United Fund as the recipient of their continuous giving pledge," Kelly pointed out.

"One other group of people who must remain anonymous as individuals made a major contribution this past year. They are the individual contributors who, seeing the need and feeling compassion for the thousands of people served by the agencies, made personal contributions considerably above those of others in similar circumstances."

"Perhaps future campaign leaders will see in their example an opportunity to form a Century Club, an elite group of givers who personally pledge $100 or more."

Next year's campaign will be initiated with confidence, enthusiasm and determination. It will undoubtedly be carried out by many of the same volunteers who have done so much in the past.

"We are all aware that the needs of our community are increasing each year. It needs our support and dedication."

"I want to express my personal thanks to all who worked so hard in giving and serving you have experienced a measure of satisfaction and joy."

Allocations to agencies for 1972 were announced as follows: Alcoholics Rehabilitation Community Home, $10,000; American Red Cross, $38,000; Arthritis Foundation, $2,825; Boy Scouts of America, $15,722; Catholic Charities, $33,500; Co-ordinated Youth Services, $30,000; Family Service Agency of Southwestern Illinois, $4,000; Fraternal Society of Retired Members, $1,800; Girl Scout Council, $18,400; Granite City Association for

Ardell Smith on Trial In Deputy's Murder

The murder trial of Ardell Smith, 33, formerly of 4734 Lake Drive, moved into its second day today in the St. Clair County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Smith has pleaded innocent to the murder of St. Clair County Sheriff's Deputy Loren Rehmer, 43, of Mascoutah, in the restroom of the Green Mill Restaurant in Freeburg, Ill., May 31, 1971.

The state's principal witness, Robert E. Martin of East St. Louis, testified yesterday that he heard four or five shots fired in the restroom and saw Smith come out with a revolver in his hand.

He said Smith warned customers at the bar, "Don't anyone move," and then fled.

Martin said he entered the restroom and found Rehmer had been shot several times.

Four other witnesses were heard yesterday. Assistant State's Attorney Kenneth J. Smith resumed presentation of the state's case this morning.

County to Lose $120,000 In Inheritance Tax Fees

Madison County will lose approximately $120,000 per year under a section of the 1970 Illinois Constitution which prohibits the use of fees for payment of salaries or office operations of governmental units, according to a ruling by Attorney General William J. Scott.

The ruling maintains that the county treasurer hereafter must remit to the Illinois state treasurer all inheritance taxes collected and may no longer retain 4% of the fees as permitted by state statutes prior to adoption of the new constitution.

Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney, said that copies of the ruling have been sent to legislators of this area with a reminder that compensative legislation is the only means by which county treasurers in Madison and other counties can replace the lost fees.

Require Much Work

County Treasurer George Muzzo said his office received $115,284 as its 4% of inheritance taxes collected during the 1970-71 fiscal year, while the office of the circuit clerk received $5,281 in fees for filing inheritance tax cases. Muzzo pointed out in a letter to Smith, requesting an opinion on the matter, that considerable work by his office goes into the collection of inheritance taxes.

Scott pointed out in his opinion that Section 9 of Article VII of the new constitution provides that "compensation of officers and employees and the office expenses of units of local government shall not be paid from fees collected." He ruled that the constitutional provision supersedes a conflicting state statute which provides the 4% fee for county treasurers.

The constitutional provision referred to by Scott is the same that eliminated retention of fees by township collectors for making annual tax collections. As a result, town collectors now must turn over 100% of their tax collection to the county. The collectors will be paid for making the collection in the form of grants from the county's general fund.

Drugs No Problem-Its the People Who Abuse them

Drugs are not a problem, but people who abuse them, are, Gerald Brown, assistant principal of Granite City's Central Junior High School, said in a talk Monday to members of the Student National Education Association at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Over-simplification by the public is a major problem in dealing with drugs, Brown said. "This is a human problem, and there are no simple solutions to human problems. We must learn to deal with a lengthy list of drugs that affect people differently. It is a gross mistake not to establish exactly what drugs you are talking about in any drug abuse program," students were told.

Brown said the hypocritical attitude of some adults and pervasive mass media advertising campaigns have caused additional young people to turn to the drugs.

Complicating the problem, Brown believes, is a "vast mass media campaign that assures the public there is no reason to be uncomfortable, there's an artificial ingredient for instant happiness."

"We are witnessing the first generation to be reared by television and the effect of this should not be minimized. Television has been a babysitter, father and mother to lots of children," Brown said.

Increases Competition

He believes children sense from the media that their chances of success are limited by the increased competition in society, adding to their desire to "turn off."

"Young people live more for today than for tomorrow. Since they can't alter the world they change the way they see the world through drugs," Brown said.

Brown said he does not know, and does not think anyone really knows the percentage of students now using drugs. "Even if we knew the percentage it would not have any meaning unless we had comparable figures for five, ten and twenty years ago," he explained.

He labeled alcohol as "far and away our most important" problem. Brown cited statistics showing there are between six and seven million alcoholics in the United States, and that half of all highway deaths involve alcohol. One person in every 15 in the country is in trouble because of alcohol, he said.

Spend Millions

"We live in a drug culture today that has people eating pills like popcorn," Brown said. He cited annual expenditures of $21 million for sleeping aids and $2.5 million for anti-nausea drugs, both of which contain some form of drug.

"Adults think nothing of consuming large amounts of alcoholic beverages and smoking tobacco, both of which are forms of drugs, but draw the line on marijuana as not being socially acceptable, Brown said. "Adults tend to link drugs and kids, but forget about their own habits."

Retired Workers Unit Hears Three Speakers

State Representative Horace Calvo, circuit clerk Willard Portell and Ronald Lucas, Democratic candidate for recorder of deeds, were guest speakers at a meeting Monday of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees, Chapter 1067, at Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center.

A noon luncheon was served by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Graham to 43 members and guests.

Harry Johnson was installed as president of the group and introduced the speakers. Following the talks, Rep. Calvo answered questions regarding state legislation for the elderly and those living on annuities.

Three new members also were introduced. They are John Delhart, Estli Wilfong and Mrs. Theina Simmons.

During the business session a letter was written and signed by the members concerning bills in Congress relating to retired federal employees. The letter was sent to Congressman

Fire at National Lead Damages Baghouse

Fire destroyed about 20 large dust-collecting bags in the air pollution control baghouse at National Lead Industrial Co., 1600 Cleveland Blvd., at 10:45 a.m. yesterday.

When firemen arrived, the 80-foot-long cloth bags were ablaze inside the brick, metal and concrete building. Air from the company's smelting furnace is forced through the bags which collect suspended dust and particles. Company officials said they were unable to totally bypass the building with the furnace exhaust while firemen fought the blaze.

The cooling and cleaning system for gases leaving "B" blast furnace was replaced with various new elements, including a high-energy venturi scrubber. The purpose was to provide cleaner, more efficient blast furnace gas for use in heating the blast air stoves and firing the steam boilers at the blast furnace power plant.

The productivity of this blast furnace has been increased several times since it was built in 1961 when, following steel industry tradition, the furnace was christened "Vard" in honor of Mrs. Nicholas P. Veeder, wife of the board chairman of Granite City Steel.

The relining and rehabilitation of "B" blast furnace was supervised by the Granite City Steel Engineering Department under John G. Despo, director of engineering.

General contractor was S. M. Wilson & Co., Granite City. Sersel, Inc., a division of Pennsylvania Engineering Corp., Pittsburgh, was the contractor for the refractory work; Strange and Coleman, East St. Louis, for the mechanical piping; and Guarantee Electrical Co., St. Louis, for the electrical work.

The Nooter Corp., St. Louis, fabricated and installed critical sections in the new gas cleaning system.

Petitions to Force Action On Dobrey Project Planned

Residents living in the vicinity of Dobrey Slough in Nameoki Township will ask Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott to take court action that would force the East Side Levee and Sanitary District to improve drainage facilities in the slough area, Mrs. Helen Hawkins, 2600 Angela Drive, reported yesterday.

Mrs. Hawkins, who has represented residents of the area in a move to obtain drainage improvements, said that property owners who have permitted the levee district to cross their property with pipes for pumping the slough in rainy periods also plan to ask the levee district to remove the pipes and other equipment.

She said petitions will be circulated throughout the area in Nameoki Township, and in the Lynch-Veski avenue area of Granite City, in an effort to obtain at least 2,000 signatures.

The petitions will be directed to Attorney General Scott and will request that he file proceedings that would mandate drainage improvements in the area by the levee district.

Will Go To Court

"We have gone as far as we can with the levee district," Mrs. Hawkins said, adding that "there's a hang-up here that can't be resolved and the only way it appears we will get anything done is to go to court."

Her reference was to a long delay in initiating a plan for building a new drainage channel designed to prevent flooding of homes and land in the slough area during heavy rains. The program was initiated by the Illinois Division of Waterways in cooperation with the levee district. The state has set aside $100,000 for the project and the levee district appropriated $40,000 to finance purchase of right-of-way.

Levee district acquisition of the easements hit a snag when owners of two tracts necessary to construction of the proposed drainage ditch refused to sell, contending the canal waters could flood surrounding farmland. The levee district filed condemnation proceedings in September, but the cases have not yet been docketed for hearing.

William "Mike" Ebersold, president of the levee district board of trustees, said that the levee district can do nothing to provide the right-of-way until the courts act on the condemnation proceedings, and the state cannot build the drainage improvements until it has the right-of-way.

Want Hearing Set

Meanwhile, the Madison County state's attorney's office asked the circuit court at Edwardsville to set a hearing in a case involving efforts to recover excess payments to levee district attorneys.

The state's attorney's office is attempting to recover a total of about $23,000 in fees paid to the attorneys during the past eight years. The court action is based on the contention that Illinois law limits to $3,500 the amount of fees that can be paid to a district attorney in any one year.

Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney, asked Chief Judge Michael Kinney to schedule a hearing on a motion for dismissal of proceedings seeking the recovery of the fees. The dismissal motion was filed by John Sprague, levee district attorney.

Retroactive Pay Can Be Released In Most Cases

Springfield—Most employers can pay retroactive wage increases held up by the Wage-Price-Freeze, according to Jay G. Philpott, director of Internal Revenue Service for Central and Southern Illinois.

Philpott explained that the Economic Stabilization Program wage guidelines will allow retroactive pay.

As a general rule, retroactive pay for a wage increase is permitted where the increase was called for in employment agreements or pay practices in effect before Aug. 15, 1971.

However, retroactive pay for increases above 7% require advance approval of the Pay Board unless the employer took steps to fund the raise before it went into effect.

Where the employer raised prices, increased productivity, raised taxes, made appropriations or otherwise provided funds for the raise prior to Aug. 15, retroactive payment may be made regardless of amount.

Special rules apply to large employers with 5,000 or more employees. They must notify the Pay Board prior to granting retroactive pay regardless of the amount or circumstances.

If the Pay Board does not question the increase within two weeks, it can be paid.

Employers with less than 5,000 employees and whose wage increases amount to 7% or less, or who make payments based on prior funding or price increases, may make retroactive wage payments without prior approval. However, they must report their actions by letter to the IRS within twenty days after payment.

The letter must certify:

- (1) The increase was agreed to prior to Aug. 15, 1971.
- (2) The increase was scheduled to take effect prior to Nov. 14, 1971, and specify the date.
- (3) The increase was not paid because of the freeze.
- (4) The total number of employees affected by the increase.
- (5) The percentage of increase for the employee unit.
- (6) The provision the employer made to fund the increase prior to the freeze. (When applicable)

Persons needing information or assistance on the Economic Stabilization Program may contact the Internal Revenue Service.

Credit Union Qualifies For Share Insurance

The Industrial Credit Union of 1400 State St., has qualified for federal insurance of members' share accounts up to $20,000 each, Joe Arro, Treasurer, announced today.

Similar to insurance available to banks and savings and loans organizations, the credit union share insurance program is administered by the National Credit Union Administration, an independent agency of the Federal Government. It is authorized by legislation approved by President Nixon in October 1970, and effective for the first time in January 1971.

The Industrial Credit Union was chartered in 1972 under the name of Dow Madison Credit Union. With a membership of 1,022 among several metal industries in the area and with assets of $796,150.95, it will pay a premium of $603.32 for its insurance this year—1/12 of one percent of its share accounts. This is the same fee paid by all credit unions, state-chartered or federal. By law the insurance is mandatory for the latter, optional for the former.

Officers of Industrial Credit Union are: Darrell Fricke, President; Joe Arro, Treasurer; Gordon Hersey, Vice-President and Norah Halvachs, Secretary.

Vandals entered Dunbar School Monday evening, broke several windows, poured ink over the music room piano and threw food throughout the cafeteria and kitchen.

The windows in two classrooms were broken with a stool and printing ink was poured over the piano. The vandals apparently left by breaking a window on the east side of the building and crawling through the window.

Kiwanians See Drug Film, Receive Awards

Granite City Kiwanis Club members were shown an informational film on the drug problem and presented with three plaques for outstanding service at a meeting Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant. The meeting was attended by 23 members.

Past Lieutenant Governor Melvin Gillie accepted the three awards on behalf of the local club at a district meeting last week in Edwardsville. They included an Inter-Club Award given as a result of four local members visiting club meetings in the district each month. Pete Jellen is the inter-club chairman.

A Secretary's Award was given because Al Gross, secretary, has promptly and completely submitted his reports to the district.

The Activity Award was received in honor of the organization's 68 projects they continue throughout the year for residents of the community. Jerry Brown, assistant principal at Central Junior High School, and Phillip Thies, Operation Drug Alert chairman for the Kiwanis Club, showed an informative film on the drug problem. This 16mm film will be purchased by the club and presented to the Granite City School District, subject to approval of the Board of Education.

Any group or organization interested in seeing the film may contact Jerry Brown or the Kiwanis Club.

A discussion was held on the Ladies Night dance held at Polish Hall in Madison attended by 30 couples. Ed Moore served as entertainment chairman.

The program at the next meeting Monday night concern newspapers as part of the Kiwanis club observance of newspaper week.

MRS. RICHARDSON TO HEAD WOMEN'S CLUB
The Arlington Heights Women's Club met Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Pat Singleton, 153 Arlington Drive. Mrs. June Ybarra, president, led the meeting.

Mrs. Pat Lewis, secretary, read a letter from the Peacemaker Valley Youth Ranch in Carlinville thanking the club for Christmas cookies.

Mrs. Ybarra gave her resignation as president because she will be leaving the Arlington Heights area. Mrs. Mary Lou Richardson was elected as president and will officially take office in March.

Mrs. Ybarra presented a tentative yearly calendar which was approved. This included a pot luck dinner in March, Easter treats for area children in April, a family picnic in August, a Halloween parade in October and a Christmas party for children in December.

Mrs. Charlene Miller, chairman of the St. Patrick's Day pot luck dinner March 17th at the Arlington Golf Club, suggested that the club purchase corned beef for the occasion and this was approved. Each family is to bring a dish.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. June Theodorakis, 184 Shady Shore Drive, and it was decided to try evening meetings to see if they might be more successful. The meeting will be at 7:30.

Mrs. Linn Blackburn, director of the Peacemaker Valley Youth Ranch, will be guest speaker, describing the workings of the home operated for homeless boys.

Mrs. Singleton served refreshments to those named and Mesdames Connie Stroehle and Lois Bradford.

New Director at Air Pollution Meeting

Dr. Reed Sutton, who assumed his duties as the director of the new Granite City Air Pollution Control Department Tuesday, was introduced to members of the pollution control board at a meeting Monday night in the new city office building at 2301 Adams Street.

The board reviewed areas in which the operation of the department will be focused, including continued monitoring of air pollution and the establishment of programs to complement the state and federal Environmental Protection Agency programs.

The 1973 budget for the department, which is to be submitted to the state EPA for approval by March 1, was discussed, but decisions concerning manpower and operating costs were deferred until after Dr. Sutton has an opportunity to study the scope of his new position.

A citizen complaint of open burning after dark in the 2800 block of Madison Avenue was heard.

GC Minister and Family to Start New Life as Missionaries in South America

By DONNA HARTWICK Press-Record Staff Writer

Almost everybody has a secret desire to try another vocation or use their individual talents to accomplish some endeavor for self satisfaction.

The Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Brand and their three young sons will embark on such a challenging frontier in their lives when they depart from Granite City to start working as missionaries in Iquitos, Peru, later this year.

The Rev. Brand, 37, and his wife, Vera, 36, with their sons, Kenneth 15, Mark, 12 and Jason, 2, shortly will begin a new life of service to other people.

They have accepted the challenge to give up a life of pastoring a church in this country to become missionaries in a South American nation without any type of formal financial assistance.

Pastor Here 10 Years

Pastor of Bethel Chapel Free Pentecostal Church, 25th Street and Ohio Avenue, for the past 10 years, the minister feels they have been called to work in the mission field. He expresses faith their financial needs will be taken care of when they replace a couple who is taking a 13-month leave of absence from the Iquitos mission.

Since there is no financial arrangement for missionaries of the Free Pentecostal faith, the Rev. Brand is leaving this area to visit congregations at other Pentecostal churches who possibly will help sponsor the move to Peru.

In preparation for this new way of life, the entire family will travel to Guadalajara, Mexico, in late April, where the minister and his wife will attend an intensive language school, directed by Nathan and Joyce Booth.

The school is expressly set up to train missionaries in the culture and language of Latin American countries and offers courses lasting three-and-a-half months.

Attend 2 Courses

Tentative plans made by the Brands are to stay in Mexico for two training sessions. They will live in an apartment near the school where young Jason can attend a day nursery.

Mark will be enrolled in an English speaking junior high school and, if possible, his eldest son, Kenneth will attend the language school with his parents.

After completing the training in Mexico, the family will return to Granite City to prepare for the 13 months in Peru. At the present time they intend to take only items for their own personal use and certain types of canned meats that are not available in Peru.

Travel by Plane

The trip to their jungle station will be made by plane, since there are no roads. The immediate area of the mission has a population of 30,000 residents, but is only accessible by plane or boat, the Rev. Brand said.

Iquitos, pronounced (ee-keer-toh), is located in the center of the northern part of Peru. It is the country's chief port on the Amazon River. The city is an important shipping port for the products of the Peruvian jungle.

Although the Brands have no definite arrangements for the education of their children, they plan to investigate universities in this country that provide extension correspondence school programs for residents living outside the country.

May Continue in Peru

Mrs. Brand said they have been invited to continue in the MISSIONARIES TO PERU. The Kenneth Brand family of 2502 Grand Ave., whose future home will be in Iquitos, Peru. The Rev. Brand has resigned as pastor of the Bethel Chapel Free Pentecostal Church to enter the mission field with his wife, Vera, and their sons, Kenneth, 15, at left, Mark, 12 and Jason, 2, on mother's lap.

missionary field after they complete their commitment in Iquitos, and have been requested to work in the Peruvian coastal and mountain regions.

"We are considering this possibility, but do not want to argue until we have been in the country for a while," she said.

A farewell party and reception recently was given for the Brands by the congregation of Bethel Chapel Free Pentecostal Church, at Long Lake Firemen's Hall, with representatives of other churches attending. The hosts prepared a money tree to initiate the financial fund for the family.

Their proposed work in the religious field is not unique, as missionaries have been stationed all over the world throughout the years.

But, to begin a life under totally different conditions to which they are accustomed, knowing they will be without funds, except through freewill donations from churches, must in itself be a "trip of faith," Mrs. Brand.

This is the telling expressed by the minister and his wife.

The Rev. Brand presented his final sermon at the local church Feb. 6. He will be replaced by the Rev. Clifton Gallier, who had pastored a church in Fairfield, Ill., the past 10 years.

A native of Kentucky, the Rev. Brand is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Fred Brand of Madison, Ill.

Special guests who attended the farewell reception were the Rev. and Mrs. Albert Altenberger of Mount Carmel, Ill.; the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Puckett of St. Louis; the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Maynard of Granite City; the Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Green of Oark, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Herdis Puckett of Henderson, Ky., parents of Mrs. Brand; the Rev. and Mrs. Willey Markham of East Alton; Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Brand of Maryland Heights, Mo., a brother and sister-in-law of Rev. Brand; and Mrs. Louise Miller and daughter, Pam, of Henderson, Ky., a sister and niece of Mrs. Brand.

Violin Recital Sunday at SIU-SW

Prof. John Kendall, a member of the music department at Southern Illinois University-Southern campus, will give a violin recital Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Lovejoy Library auditorium.

Accompanied at the piano by Betty Ruth Tomlin, of Godfrey, Prof. Kendall will play "Sonata in D Major" by Beethoven; "Sonata in F Major" (K. 376) by Mozart; and "Fantasy 'Sonata Opus 13'."

Director of the string development program at SIU-SW, Kendall received his bachelor's degree from Oberlin Conservatory and his master's degree in music education from Columbia University. He has studied toward a doctorate at the University of Iowa and Indiana University.

A former concertmaster of the St. Louis Philharmonic Orchestra, he is first violinist with the Lincoln Quartet, in residence at SIU-SW, and conductor of the SIU-SW Chamber Orchestra.

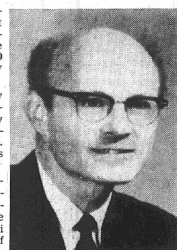

Hinsons Attend Lincoln Day Meet

Kenneth Hinson, 5th Division commander of the American Legion, accompanied by his sister, Miss Dorothy Hinson, president of the Venice-Madison American Legion Auxiliary, took part in the annual Lincoln Day Pilgrimage during the weekend at Springfield.

Highlighting the program was addressed by American Legion Commander John Geiger of Des Plaines, Ill., whose remarks were broadcast in a nationwide address from Lincoln's Tomb.

Following the speech a luncheon was held at the St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield. Among those paying tribute to Abraham Lincoln were Legion representatives from many different states, Hinson said.

At the luncheon program, the local official presented Commander Geiger a plaque designating the national officer as honorary commander of the Egyptian Past Commanders Association of Southern Illinois. The organization consists of past officers of the Legion's 5th Division, Hinson advised.

Important to Consider Illinois as Well as Missouri in Effort to Expand Port Activity

A number of years ago, Missouri business and governmental leaders promoted the theory that all sections of the St. Louis metropolitan region benefit from each other's economic gains and therefore ought to help each other unselfishly, encouraging and applauding sound development wherever it might occur.

There undoubtedly was sincerity on the part of many St. Louisans and St. Louis Countyans, and the constructive attitude of key St. Louis officials in 1972 toward building a regional airport in Illinois bears this out. Unfortunately, certain others have followed a double standard, championing projects to the west while publicly or privately trying to sabotage improvements to the east.

The point arises again in regard to waterborne shipping. As William L. Behan Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis, pointed out in January, "Shipments by water in and out of the Port of St. Louis have not grown significantly over the past decade. During the same period, 1961-70, that regional manufacturing activity has increased 88% and traffic on the middle Mississippi River has increased 87%, shipments by water in and out of St. Louis have grown only 10%."

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council was asked to make a comprehensive study to determine ways of increasing port use, including possible dredging of the river.

J. Dale Perkins, St. Louis Chamber transportation vice-president, urged immediate approval at the Jan. 26 East-West Gateway meeting.

John Bellico of the Tri-City Regional Port District, current president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, alerted urging a slight delay to permit Illinois as well as Missouri emphasis. He stated that he is "in favor of the study, providing it includes the metropolitan area and the port facilities on both sides of the river, from the Jefferson Barracks Bridge to the mouth of the Missouri River."

Mr. Bellico continued, "I agree with you the Port of St. Louis has many problems. Suppose the study shows that the Port of St. Louis is obsolete and recommends that a new port complex be built—and that it be built, for instance, north of the present Port of St. Louis where it would be better able to handle the concepts in river shipping, with better rail facilities, better highway access and room for expansion?"

"Other areas located on the river have done this, such as Memphis and Houston. If the study recommends that this be done and recommends that the new port be located on the east side, perhaps along the Chain of Rocks Canal where thousands of acres of available land, or possibly Mosenheim Island, or Columbia Bottoms, would the Chamber still support such a study? Or would we wind up with another controversy like the airport?"

"When you speak of the Port of St. Louis, this I understand, is to mean the area from the Jefferson Barracks Bridge to the Chain of Rocks Canal on the Missouri side of the river only. Isn't it true that the Corps of Engineers is planning to make a similar study and that a public hearing is to be held on Feb. 11? Wouldn't it be better to support the study the Corps is planning, instead of spending funds for two studies at the time?"

Mr. Bellico's fears were borne out at the hearing, where St. Louis Alderman Milton Sventanas pushed strongly for development of a Baden Bay commercial harbor and recreation area along the St. Louis side from Jackson Street to East Grand Blvd., with a related multimodal transportation district bounded by Grand, Broadway, Thatcher, Hall and Jackson, tying in railroad yards, truck lines and Interstate 70.

Testimony by Col. Edwin R. Decker (ret.), St. Louis district engineer from 1966 to 1970, agreed with Mr. Bellico that for various reasons the St. Louis side may not be the best one to develop.

"The problem is not sedimentation but lethargy, fragmentation and lack of political power. If you ask me if there's any benefit interest, if the area really wants to go, my frank opinion is 'No'."

The study should be called a study for an Illinois port in the vicinity St. Louis, Ill. The Byzantine bureaucracy of the Army Engineer Corps or the environmentalists don't stymie it. I think Kaskaskia (a Chinese power and industrial plant) on the Kaskaskia River at its confluence with the Mississippi River near Chester, Ill., will steal this action when it goes in the line. "A lock being completed near Chester will create a large slack water area behind it, attractive to barge lines for storage."

Col. Guy E. Jester, present St. Louis district engineer, said the Engineer Corps will take written and oral testimony under consideration before deciding whether to make the study, which he said might suggest an off-river port, a slack water area or both.

Three additional factors which strongly suggest prominent Illinois inclusion in any Army or East-West Gateway study are:

1. Existing and potential Tri-City Regional Port District and Southwest Regional Port District facilities.

2. The scheduled federal construction of a new lock and dam south of Alton.

3. The Tri-City Regional Port District preliminary plans for a new harbor at the Chain of Rocks Canal's northern terminus, near the Mississippi-Missouri Rivers intersection.

City Unlikely to Escape State Ethics Law

It will surprise us greatly if the City of Granite City successfully overrides state ethics legislation and exempts non-paid city appointees, such as public utility members.

At the Feb. 7 Council meeting, where an exemption ordinance was placed on first reading, emphasis was placed on the fact that such appointees serve without salary. So do school board members, but the overriding point is that the decisions which are made—official action or inaction—affect employees, contractors, property owners, developers and the taxpayer's pocket.

Whether a board member making such decisions happens to be paid or unpaid is not what the Illinois ethics law is all about. It hopes to deter illicit money, not public remuneration.

If there are those who wish to exempt members of public agencies who do not wish to certify their financial information, it would be an unfortunate occurrence, in that government would be deprived of their services. But it was a risk taken by the General Assembly in enacting the law, and statewide adherence to the provisions seems inevitable.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed. Noncity residents are requested to contribute of less than $20 would be given preference. All are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those libelous or not in good taste will be rejected or edited.

CONDITION OF ALLEYS, BUILDINGS A DISGRACE

DISCOURAGING TO THE EDITOR: I am writing this letter, in the past, hoping to get some results.

I live in the area of East 20th where Park, Quincy, Omaha and Russell are located. It is a disgrace—what we have to put up with.

Our alleys need grading, and refilling. There are buildings that should be torn down, for instance one in the 2100 block of East 20th.

A brick building has been boarded up for at least four years and nothing is done about it. I have tried many times to get something done, but no one will do anything.

There are trees in empty lots which are so tall they are a danger to people. Homes on these lots were torn down and the trees were left.

There are a few of us who keep our places clean but the others are a disgrace to us. The only time our area is noticed is either at election time or taxing time.

If something isn't done soon, I will write to the state fire marshal and state board of health.

Another thing: Are we part of Granite City? It sure doesn't seem like it.

DISCOURAGING TO THE EDITOR: WHY GIVE $30 MILLION FOR UNNECESSARY PURPOSE? To the Editor:

A couple of weeks ago the City of Granite City was granted $30 million in federal funds to "fight crime in the streets."

The city officials later said they were studying ways to use the money and were uncertain how to spend it.

I can understand why greedy local-level officials would try to get $20 million in monies taken by legal compulsion by the federal government from the taxpayers, and theoretically to be spent by the federal government for the benefit of the taxpayers from whom it was taken, and for whose benefit it was held in trust.

What I can't understand and would appreciate the President Nixon helping me to understand, is why federal officials would turn over to the city a huge sum of money for the benefit of the city, when the local officials in 1971, when they were going to "blow it,"

"IF MAO TSE-TUNG GAVE RICHARD NIXON A PEKINGESE, WOULD THAT BE CHINESE CHECKERS?"

Our Man in Peking: Nixon Visit May Affect China Power Struggle

The number of newsmen accompanying President Richard M. Nixon on his dramatic visit to China this weekend is sharply limited.

But the Press-Record will have its "man in Peking." Among the 87 chosen was James Cary of Copley News Service.

Because of wide interest in the trip, we'll relay correspondents' analyses of the impact of the Red Chinese government. And we'll also present a commentary on the Nixon journey by Jeffrey St. John.

First, Mr. Cary's report: President Nixon's visit to Communist China may be used to gain leverage in a continuing Peking power struggle that has for now placed Premier Chou En-lai in the strongest leadership role.

Whether Chou will remain on top is far from certain. At least, his period of ascendancy may last no more than five years.

These views have been presented at a Washington Journalism conference by William W. Whitson, senior social scientist on the staff of the Rand Corp., one of the nation's leading think tanks.

Under this interpretation, the recent upheaval in China that brought the apparent downfall of Defense Minister Lin Piao, heir-designate of Chairman Mao Tse-tung, was partly the result of an effort to reestablish centralized control.

During the recent cultural revolution, the central government lost considerable power when Red Guards and other radicals were used to attack and largely destroy the Chinese Communist Party.

Power, on the other hand, was gained by the four military regions and the commanders. "We have been misled to a certain extent about the degree of centralized control in China," Whitson said.

"To say China is a nation-state (in the sense that Western nations are) carrying a fiction too far."

It is his view that in the effort to reach a greater amount of centralized control, the 4th Field Army of the northeastern Manchurian region—Lin Piao's old army—lost influence and representation in the Central Committee. So did Mao.

The 2nd and 3rd Field Armies gained somewhat.

Chou built a coalition of these generals that has pushed him steadily forward in gaining more control over governmental affairs and direction of the nation.

"I think Chou is trying to use the Nixon visit to help in shifting power from the four regions to the central government," Whitson said.

"I think he needs to convince the ground force commanders that only the center, meaning Chou, can negotiate with the President of the United States and make agreements with him."

"Chou needs that kind of leverage to influence internal affairs, and budget allocations," Whitson said.

"The visit in a sense is a play out of domestic political need."

Similarly, Whitson believes Mao's power has been declining for some time as Chou's was rising.

and political pures in Red China's recent history.

It has been confirmed that Chairman Mao Tse-tung's heir apparent, Lin Piao, the powerful head of the Chinese army, is dead along with the army's chief of staff and three senior officers in an air crash in Mongolia.

It is said that Lin sought to stage a takeover and assassinate Chairman Mao. Why? "It is argued," writes the respected London Observer, "that apart from sharp differences over internal policies, Mao's and China's military pundits have quarreled over the proposed visit of President Nixon to Peking."

Since the so-called cultural revolution of 1966, China has been seething with internal turmoil.

Although it is estimated that more than one million perished in the upheavals that convulsed China, many lower echelon officials loyal to Lin Piao and other purged elements have gone "underground" and might be eager to discredit the current Peking leadership.

Nearly all the "Asian scholars" in favor at the White House have almost no firsthand experience in the Chinese revolution.

The assassination of President John F. Kennedy was misled by his advisers on Nov. 1961 Vienna meeting with then Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

That meeting not only turned into a disaster but led directly to the Soviet-inspired Cuban missile crisis of October-November 1962—a crisis that U.S. officials refused to believe was imminent despite evidence weeks before the actual crisis.

The assassination of President Kennedy followed a year after the Cuban crisis.

Despite abundant evidence of Lee Harvey Oswald's connections with Premier Fidel Castro's Cuba and his stay in the Soviet Union, the Warren Commission dismissed the act as motivated by a disturbed loner and not a Marxist fanatic.

Who can be certain that a similar situation as developed in China could not develop in Peking?

The virulent "hate American" campaign that has gone on in China outwardly has been swiftly turned off by the Red Chinese leadership.

But it is that easy to turn off a small band of Chinese intellectuals with rifles seething with hatred for an American President?

State Status--Primary Affects Fall Momentum

By KEN WATSON

Copley News Service

Springfield—There's a daily double in Illinois politics. It's the twin primaries for governor.

Both Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and Democratic Lt. Gov. Paul Simon are hoping for a right combination which could give one or the other a big dividend for the anticipated November showdown.

There is little doubt beneath the Statehouse Dome that Ogilvie and Simon will be nominated. The question is: By how much?

Both are already pushing hard to roll up impressive majorities over decidedly underdog opponents.

Ogilvie has what would ordinarily be considered an obvious opposition in Peoria doctor John Mathis, while Simon has more serious opposition in walking Chicago attorney and business executive.

But professional politicians have already decided that 1972 is not an election year to be taken for granted. Everything is being taken into account.

Although Mathis is not making much of a campaign, some Statehouse Republicans are uneasy that some rank-and-file GOP voters may mark for him in order to register a quiet form of protest against the Ogilvie administration.

Some of this can be expected in any campaign. But should it grow out of proportion, the effect on the subsequent campaign against the Democrats could be harmful.

It would be embarrassing to the regular Republican organization if Mathis should poll 200,000 votes or more. Ogilvie is already regarded as an underdog candidate for re-election and he can't stand much more political slipshod.

This is one of the reasons why an unusually intensive publicity campaign, including full-page advertisements in some Illinois newspapers, is under way to acquaint the public—and, specifically, Republican primary voters—with the Ogilvie first term record.

One can also expect a determined push at the grassroots level, with precinct committees man going door-to-door on election day in an effort to assure a huge plurality for the governor.

There is uneasiness, too, in the Simon camp. If Walker should go much over a 200,000 vote margin, the Simon fall campaign would be regarded as in trouble.

The Simon organization has stepped up the tempo of the primary campaign far more than had been anticipated at Chicago and Springfield newspapers reported on the campaign fund.

The Simon people appear confident they are avoiding slipshod campaigning. They are worried to some extent about Chicago, and especially the Cook County suburban areas, although the Democratic vote is ordinarily comparatively light there.

Around college campuses, Walker auto bumper stickers are common, often appearing on cars which also back the presidential aspirations of South Dakota Sen. George McGovern, who has entered a slate of Illinois conventional delegates.

Like to swamp Walker and thus continue the momentum that up to now appears to be carrying Simon into the Governor's mansion.

A close race with Walker, however, could make a new ball game out of the Simon-Ogilvie November runoff.

REFRESHING COMMENT

To the Editor:

This is in response to your editorial of Feb. 10 concerning school bus service during hazardous weather conditions.

The editorial took a refreshing outlook on a current local situation. It would seem that you had every right to point an accusing finger, but you did not. Instead, you simply presented the facts as they were and asked why such a situation was allowed to exist.

I hope that this is only the beginning of this type of pertinent editorial that is not afraid to ask the question, "Why?"

This Week in America's History

1772—Residents of Connecticut were strongly united in the cause of independence as the year of decision approached, and were to provide men and supplies for the army in generous measure when the time came.

Even John Trumbull was to be the only Royal Governor in the 13 colonies who was not to be removed by local action.

The area had been explored, originally, by Adrian Block, Dutch navigator, who sailed up the Connecticut River in 1614.

The first permanent settlement was made near what now is Hartford in 1636 by Dutch moving in from New York colony.

In the same year, however, English settlers moved into the fertile Connecticut River valley from Massachusetts colony, with their first real community formed in 1636.

Until after 1840, the population of Connecticut was to be mostly of English origin or descent.

Three adjacent communities, Hartford, Westfield and Windsor—called River Towns—joined in 1637 to form an independent government as a beginning for a separate colony.

In 1686, the colonial governor, John Winthrop, went to London to seek a charter from Charles II, newly come to the throne.

Granted in 1682, the charter was so liberal as to make the colony virtually independent, with its residents free to choose their own governor and other officials, and to enact their own laws.

James II, succeeding to the English throne in 1685, reorganized all of the New England areas under one administration, with Sir Edmund Andros as Royal Governor.

Andros demanded the surrender of the original Connecticut charter, but met defiance, with the document hidden in the so-called "Charter Oak" at Hartford.

William III, who became king soon after, in 1688 reversed matters so that Connecticut retained the type of independence status, under its own governor.

The colony grew steadily, attaining a population of 200,000 by 1785, distributed through six counties and 73 towns.

It was a rural society, strongly religious, with schools formed—inclusive of Yale College, established in 1701 at Killingsworth, but moved in 1716 to New Haven, which had itself been settled in 1636.

Tobacco was the chief crop, but manufacturing developed, notably in metal products, clocks, paper, and textiles.

SIU-SW Prof Studies For Lower B. S. Degree

It is uncommon for male students to enter the elementary education degree program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, but it is unheard of for a professor to enter the program as a student.

"I couldn't believe it," Mrs. Jean Denzel, advisor in the Office of Student Services in the Education Division, said when Dr. Donald Repovich, assistant professor in the counselor education department, asked her to set up a schedule for him leading to a B.S. degree in elementary education.

Registrar Robert Bruker said Repovich is the only professor at this university working on a degree lower than one he has already earned.

Mrs. Denzel said Repovich was very serious and will complete his course work during the spring quarter and his student teaching during the winter quarter next year. Ironically Repovich is on the review committee for Mrs. Denzel's six-year specialist teaching certificate at SIU-SW.

Earns Degree Repovich earned the B.S. degree in social studies and psychology and the M.S. degree in guidance from the University of Missouri, Columbia, and the Ed.D. degree in student personnel service from the University of Mississippi.

child development and elementary education," Repovich said, "so I am retraining in that area. I would like to run my own school some day and would like to see more men enter elementary education."

"I consider myself to be the leader of a men's liberation movement to get more men in elementary and pre-school education programs," he said. Children need male models early in their education, Repovich believes.

Cultural Hangup

He said that the reason more men enter elementary education is because of the "cultural hangup" that to teach at men are not in elementary education.

While teaching a full complement of classes, Repovich takes 12 quarter hours of classroom work. He teaches on Wednesday and Friday and attends classes on Tuesday night and Saturday morning with one class during the day on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday for one hour. Most of his classes run for two hours.

Repovich's B.S. degree program called for 54 quarter hours of classroom work. Mrs. Denzel said, "and he wanted no favors or shortcuts." "I think everything has value in obtaining an education," he said, "and I have experienced some things as a student that will definitely help me as a professor. I think every professor should have to stand in registration lines and try to find open classes to complete a classroom schedule."

"I am still as offended by a professor who reads the textbook to the class as I was as an undergraduate years ago," Repovich said, "but I have found some models to improve my teaching, both good and bad."

Audio-Visual Methods

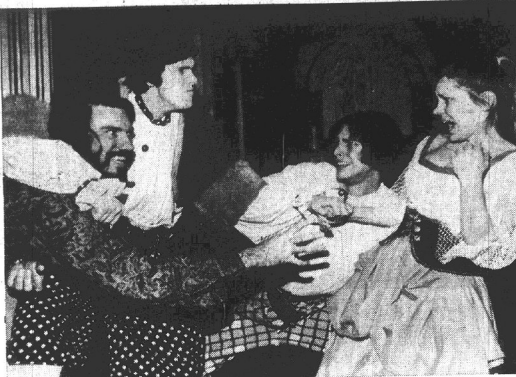

Repovich, who tries not to take a class from professors he knows, said he has found audio-visual methods and physical education methods to be his most rewarding courses so far. "I find interesting similarities between the ways in which preschoolers learn and university students learn," Repovich explained. "Teaching should be a manner of presentation of the materials to be learned," he said, "and young or old, if the materials are presented properly, any student will learn."

In addition to being a student and professor, Repovich advises 65 students in the graduate program in counselor education.

Repovich says when he finished his classwork this spring, "I will probably work on a master's degree in reading."

SCENE FROM THREE CUCKOLDS—Four members of the University Theater at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern rehearse for the anonymous play to be presented Feb. 21-26 at SIU-SW. From left are Ron Ellert of Alton, who portrays the devil; Jon Jones, Wood River, who plays Zanni; Jose Vega of St. Louis, who plays the lead role of Arlecchino; and Kathy Legate, Edwardsville, cast of Franceschini. Curtain time for the admission-free play is 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Bobby Jones Liked Worden Girl Heads Golf, Not School

Editor's Note: Robert T. Jones, 1902-1971, was the only golfer in history to win the "Grand Slam" (the four major tournaments of the golf world). This is another in a series on what famous people were like in their teens.

By BETT ANDERSON
Copley News Service
Happiness, to Bobby Jones, was playing golf. By the time he was a teenager, he had been playing for seven years.

The year 1902 was a good year for golf. Bobby Jones was born then and the rubber-core golf ball came into existence at the same time. These two were simply made for each other.

Bobby felt very deeply about school—he hated it! He did not like to go to school. He would even make a mud puddle until he was so wet that the teacher had to send him home for dry clothes.

Sports was his thing. He played tennis, Ping-Pong, chess and billiards. Gradually golf became his choice. He discontinued p u d d l e - w a d i n g, settled down in the classroom, and began to take golf seriously. At 13, he won two club championships!

Bobby's father was a pretty pleased at his son's success. So was Bobby. He became unreasonably cocky especially after beating golfers much older than himself. Then a lumbago reared its ugly head and was very painful. The teen-aged champ could no longer hit the ball hard enough to make a long drive.

At 14, Bobby licked the lumbago. He was ready to play in a national tournament at the famous Merion Cricket Club in Philadelphia. He was not an heroic figure but an abbreviated little guy whose knickerbockers disguised the fact that he was knock-kneed.

His lumbago pains were gone but not his growing pains. He was as puffed as a peacock with his own importance. When he made a bad shot, he threw his club away.

He soon earned a reputation as a terrible-tempered golfer. This bugged him because he never actually got mad at anybody but himself. He finally

Worden Girl Heads Illinois Rural Youth

The Illinois Rural Youth at its annual Winter Rally conference at the University of Illinois used the theme "Drive Alive."

A defensive driving course was presented by the Illinois State Police. Twelve attending from Madison County.

Election of state officers was held, with two members from Madison County being elected. Karen Lueker, Worden, was elected state president for 1972 and Betty Jo Brunnum, Hannibal, was elected co-president leader.

Rural Youth is an organization for single young adults. University at Carbondale is invited to attend the regular monthly meetings held the first Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Building in Edwardsville, Ill.

Winter Enrollment Down at Carbondale

Winter term enrollment on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is 5.6% below the same quarter a year ago.

The campus tally is 21,291 compared to 22,560 for 1971, according to Loren Jung, director of institutional research.

Most of the decline is represented in the freshman class, down 1,148 from last year's winter total. The freshman figure of 8,654 is the lowest of all four undergraduate classes. Graduate School enrollment is 2,836, down 276 from last year. The senior class figure of 5,184 is an increase of 531.

Enrollment in out-of-town extension classes is 771, a drop of 10 from 1971.

Jung said total university enrollment (including SIU-SW) is 33,141, a 5.5% decrease.

conquered his unsportsmanlike behavior.

When Bobby was 16, World War I was being fought. He and some other teenagers played bonfire matches for the Red Cross.

Years later, when Bobby Jones was a famous, and below golf champion, he said that he never learned anything from winning—only from losing.

Cast Announced For The Three Cuckolds

The cast of The Three Cuckolds, to be presented at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Feb. 21-26 by the University Theater, has been announced by Leslie Branham.

Branham, a member of SIU-SW's speech and theater department, is directing the anonymous play, adapted by Leon Katz. The play centers around Arlecchino, who stumbles upon the domestic and amorous affairs of three married couples. Arlecchino is portrayed by Jose Vega, St. Louis.

Other members of the cast include Alan Seymour of Edwardsville, who plays Coviello; Amy Seiber, Belleville, portraying Fiammina; Bruce Firestone, Little Rock, Ark., as Pantalone; Kathy Legate, Edwardsville, Franceschini; and Jon Jones, Wood River, Zanni. Others are Ron Ellert, Alton,

Simon Challenges Ogilvie to Reveal Campaign Financing

"Governor Ogilvie's statement on campaign disclosure, unfortunately, comes after the horse is out of the barn," Illinois Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon said in a campaign statement Monday. Simon hopes to oppose Ogilvie for governor in November.

"For three years he has done nothing about reform on campaign expenditures and contributions. Now, in an election year—after banking $1,000,000 at a one-night campaign stand—the governor talks about reform," Simon said.

"What did Richard Ogilvie say about campaign contributions when he was sheriff of Cook County?"

"What did he say when he ran for governor?"

"Did Richard Ogilvie have a surplus or deficit?"

"Every time I have run for office—four times for the Illinois House of Representatives, twice for the State Senate and once for lieutenant governor—I have made public disclosure of how much money I received from contributions and how much money I spent."

"In 1968, for instance, I spent $108,000, in my successful race for lieutenant governor. I challenge Governor Ogilvie to say how much money he spent."

"Governor Ogilvie's chief legal counsel said a week ago that the Governor didn't keep records as to the amount of contributions he received from individuals in 1968. Everyone in politics—except library trustees to President—knows that every campaign keeps financial records."

"But—if the Governor did, indeed, not keep financial records—how does he explain this to the Internal Revenue Service?"

"Frankly, I understand what the governor is doing. He's trying to explain away the recently disclosed illegal contributions that went into his 1968 campaign for governor," Simon charged.

"By spending between $5 million and $7 million this year and by calling me names, he hopes to buy the election and at the same time try to create a false issue."

"The governor directed similar strategy for Ralph Smith in the 1970 campaign for the U. S. Senate. It didn't work against Adlai E. Stevenson III in 1970 and it won't work against Paul Simon in 1972."

"All of us remember the governor's lofty promises when he ran for office in 1968. He promised there would be no state income tax, but we have a state income tax."

"He promised there would be no gasoline tax hike, but he still imposed a gasoline tax increase. He promised he would cut crime, but crime is up in Illinois."

"He promised he would cut the state payroll, but it's up 13,312 since the day he made that promise."

"He promised he would cut the sales tax off food, but we still have that regressive and oppressive tax."

"Richard Ogilvie's campaign slogan in 1972 should be 'From Made and Promises Broken.'"

"Paul Simon won't be making many promises in his campaign. But those he makes, you can believe," he concluded.

Heart Fund Marathon Run Set This Weekend

Members of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity at the Southern Illinois campus of Southern Illinois University will be for the second year stage a marathon run from the campus to the Capitol at Springfield to publicize February as Heart Month, declared by an Act of Congress and proclaimed by Gov. Richard Ogilvie.

Saturday and Sunday
Thirty-four runners will take part in the marathon Saturday and Sunday, running 99 1/2 miles through Madison, Macoupin and Jackson counties, with a side trip to Litchfield in Montgomery County.

At Springfield, the last torch bearer will hand his torch to a representative of the governor on the east steps of the Capitol, who will ignite a torch already in place on the Capitol steps. Other local dignitaries and Heart volunteers are expected. The youths will spend Saturday night in Carlinville.

Preceding the runners will be youths who will hold a balloon sale for the Heart Fund in each community. The money will be used to fight diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

The runners, who will run a mile in each relay carrying the torch, will be escorted by a pace car and police. They will spend the night of Feb. 20 in Springfield and hold a celebration party.

Taking part in opening ceremonies at SIU-SW will be President John Rendleman, former U. S. Sen. Ralph T. Smith, Harold Fischer, Chairman of the SIU Board of Trustees and William J. Tudor, Ph.D., of SIU-SW, vice-president of the North Central Region of the American Heart Association.

The runners are expected to arrive at the Capitol at 4:47 p.m. Sunday.

Guidance Workshops At SIU-SW Get Funds

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern has received funding for two proposals entitled "Vocational Guidance Services in the Secondary School" and the Vocational and Technical Education Division of the State of Illinois.

Both proposals are workshops to be held on the SIU-SW campus for area secondary school counselors and junior college personnel, according to Raymond Troyer, professor of counselor education and director of the workshops.

The workshops will provide an opportunity for the counselor education department at SIU-SW to have closer contact with state and regional people involved with career development. Troyer said. He said area junior college and secondary guidance people would be made aware of local and state resources for services to their students.

The first workshop will be held March 27 through June 10 and the second will be held June 12 through June 23, with credit being granted to graduate students.

Janet Dixon, administrative intern with the Vocational and Technical Education Division, attached to the business education department at SIU-SW, assisted in the proposal.

Labor-Management Program at Prather

Two eighth grade social studies classes at Prather Junior High School are involved in a simulation game—Strike—designed to acquaint the students with capitalism, labor history and collective bargaining.

The students are portraying roles as owners, managers, foremen, labor organizers, unemployed persons, Negro migrants, socialists and anarchists.

Barry Gardner, a student and "owner," noted the active class participation as the main advantage of this approach over the traditional teaching approach.

He said he is gaining a real appreciation of the stress and strain of business life.

The classes are being conducted by Eugene Gunderson, Tom Turner and Harris Tiek, a student teacher.

Valentine Dance

The Granite City Elks Club will hold a Valentine's dance from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday at the lodge. Cocktails will be served from 8 to 9 p.m. with dancing to the music of Phil Berutti to follow. Tickets are $4 per person.

Bangla Desh Concert Leads Sharp Newcomers

By JUDY HUGG
Copy News Service

After a quiet April during the last month, music studios all over the world are back in business and by the sounds of the about releases, 1972 is off to a rousing start.

Heading the list of sharp newcomers is the much talked about "The Concert of Bangla Desh." The three-record set features George Harrison, Bob Dylan and Ringo Starr, along with such notables as Leon Russell, Eric Clapton, Ravi Shankar, Billy Preston, Klaus Voorman, some of Badfinger's members and Shelter People.

Included in the package is a 64-page book that outlines the facts and causes of the benefit concert for refugee children of Bangladesh, formerly East Pakistan, plus several color action photos.

The performance is superb and truly an all-out effort by Specter, who couldn't have packed more intensity and emotion into the platters if they had tried.

No matter what the proceeds of this charity album amount to, the whole world should take off their hats to this bunch of thoughtful young musicians who have set an example and given something to the world that most of us could never achieve—hope.

"Straight Up!" Speaking of Badfinger, they have just released their second LP for the Apple label called "Straight Up." The disc was produced by George Harrison and Todd Rundgren using Badfinger's material. It contains enough fine cuts to make it on both FM and AM stations, with such standouts as "Perfection," "Take It All," "The Lullaby," "Name of the Game" and "Day After Day."

The polished style of Dionne Warwick is evident in her latest album for Warner Bros. entitled simply "Dionne." Featured primarily are songs written by Bacharach and David and her dynamic versions of "Love Song," "One Less Bell to Answer," "Close to You" and the new "I Just Have to Breathe."

One of the best things to come along in a long while is the Rolling Stones' new "Hot Rocks 1964-1971" on London. It is a super two-record set and includes all their oldies but goodies during their years with London. It should be an instant chart breaker because there isn't a song left out, which means that "Wild Horses," "As Tears Go By," "Jumping Jack Flash" and "Paint It Black" are included.

"Bubble Gummers" For this bubble gummers, the Osmonds' latest release, "Phase III" on the MGM label, is a must. Their up-and-coming hit single "Down by the Lazy River" and the already hit "Yo-Yo" are included.

Van Morrison has really been to reap benefits from his latest winner "Tupelo Honey" for Warner Bros. records. The album opens with "Wild Night," which earned its way to the top of the best singles list, and hangs on strong with "Like a Cannonball," which is lyrically mellow with a blistering beat.

All favorite for lovers and soul music trippers will be "You're My Woman," offering almost seven minutes of tender salutation to his woman in soulful Van Morrison style, backed up by horns and a heavy blues piano. All the songs were composed by Morrison, who seems to be getting even better with each effort.

The mellow guitars of those two Indians from Brazil's back country, Nativico and Antenor Lima, better known as Los Indios Tabajaras, sound better than ever in their newest release on the RCA label, "What the World Needs Now." Their format is the familiar one of two guitars superbly played with a simple percussion background.

However, this time they are playing for the first time on amplified instruments, allowing more nuances of their distinctive styling to be appreciated. In addition to the title tune, some of the top cuts are "A Whiter Shade of Pale," "Spanish Harlem," "Love Is Blue," and "Take Me Home, Country Roads."

Gershwin Music The music of George Gershwin comes alive in an unusual album, the original cast recording of "S Wonderful," "S Wonderful," "S Wonderful," presented on television by the Bell System Family Theater, and presented on the Daybreak label.

Jack Lemmon's commentaries, as he takes the parts of various people connected with Gershwin's rise to fame, sketch an amazing and tragically short career.

Fred Astaire, Leslie Uggams, Peter Nero, Larry Kert, Linda Bennett, Robert Guillaume, Alan Johnson and the Elliot Lawrence Orchestra star in such hauntingly familiar favorites as "The Man I Love," "Concerto in F," "Rhapsody in Blue," and "Embraceable You."

BIG SCREEN - LITTLE SCREEN HENRY MANCINI, His Orchestra and Chorus (RCA-VICTOR) — This album features themes from motion pictures and television. Included are the movie themes "All His Children" from "Sometimes a Great Notion," "Life Is What You Make It" from "Kotch," "Theme" from the "Tonight" Show and "Those Were the Days" from the No. 1 rated "All in the Family." Mancini has once again put together a smooth thoroughly professional work.

FEATURED IN FILM. Jim Radford, left, of Godfrey, Pete Liefer, center, of Granite City and Stanford Scott of East St. Louis discuss problems of Vietnam veterans during a filming session at Southern Illinois University-Southwest. They are among the veterans connected with the Veterans World Project at SIU-SW participating in the film, to be used by the office of Gov. Richard Ogilvie at a training session for state and some federal employees who deal with veterans.

Vietnam Vets Featured In New Film at SIU-SW

Vietnam veterans from this region are featured in a film on veterans' problems made last week at Southern Illinois University-Southwest at the request of the office of Gov. Richard Ogilvie.

The film will be shown this spring at a statewide training session on veterans affairs to be called by the governor. The training session will include most state and some federal employees who deal with veterans.

The veterans in the film are connected with the Veterans World Project at SIU-SW. The Veterans World Project ("world") is used by veterans in Indiana to refer to the United States was begun last year through a $24,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education.

Peter Gillingham, project director and research associate at SIU-SW, said the project is the first in the U.S. allowing veterans to define their own problems in detail. A report including specific recommendations for changes in institutional handling of veterans, written by veterans themselves, is expected soon, Gillingham said.

The film is divided into three parts, said Gillingham:

A part showing that the Vietnam veteran has different thoughts and different experiences than veterans coming out of the Korean War, World War II and World War I.

A part telling why many Vietnam veterans never come into governmental offices for assistance they are entitled to.

A part explaining specific problems of Vietnam veterans. Gillingham said the film was arranged after Ogilvie met privately with SIU-SW veterans last month on the campus.

Those participating in the filming were: Charles E. Rogers, Harold Bryant, George Knight, Stanford Scott and Randy Thomas, all of East St. Louis; Larry Smith, Kendrick Forrester and Al Sinclair, all of Edwardsville; John Kent and Jesse Adams, both of Alton; Terry Campbell of Belleville; Pete Liefer of Granite City; and Jim Radford of Godfrey.

Financial Aid Goes Begging at Campuses

Many students who could qualify for financial assistance at both campuses of Southern Illinois University are not taking advantage of the available funds.

According to Roy Pettigrew, director of student work and financial assistance at SIU-SW, many students in the Southern Illinois residents who would qualify for Illinois State Scholarships, are not applying.

Pettigrew urged all students who need financial assistance to fill out the ACT (American College Testing) financial statement available in the Student Work and Financial Assistance office in the basement of the General Office Building.

"The ACT financial statement is necessary for all grants, scholarships and awards in order to analyze each student's financial need," Pettigrew said.

SIU-SW Inventory Has $27,000 Loss in Year

An audit of Southern Illinois University-Southwest property showed that 287 items valued at $26,915 were stolen or missing during a period of a year. Involved mostly was portable equipment as tape recorders, projectors, typewriters and calculators, but all items costing $25 or more were listed as they are carried on the university's property inventory.

A report from Robert E. Mattheis, property control director, to James F. Metcalf, controller and budget director, drawn after a visit by state auditors last October, showed that 367 items valued at $36,552 were lost or stolen, but 70 items worth $9,636 were later recovered and returned to the university's inventory.

They said some of the missing items were merely borrowed or moved to other locations by persons who forget to return them.

East Bank Players to Open Season With Cole Porter's 'Anything Goes'

East Bank Players, the Quad-Cities theatrical company, will open its third full year of musical productions with the Cole Porter favorite, "Anything Goes."

"Anything Goes" was selected especially by the local company for presentation at this time due to the current popularity of musicals, Players officials noted.

The show is scheduled for performances on Saturday, March 11, and Friday and Saturday, March 17-18, at the Polish Hall on Greenwood Street, Madison.

Featuring the same format as previous East Bank shows, "Anything Goes" will be presented in cabaret style with an added dimension—multiple use of the hall's 3½-foot high stage. Use of the stage areas will provide better viewing for local audiences, the directors stated.

Leading Roles

Playing lead roles will be several popular entertainers from past shows. Norma Mendoza will be seen as the leading lady—a nightclub singer turned evangelist—Reno Sweeney.

Mrs. Mendoza has appeared in such Players' productions as "Gypsy and Dolly," in which she portrayed "Sarah Brown" of the Save-A-Soul Mission, and in chorus parts in "The Music Man" and "Gypsy."

Popular songs in which she will be featured in "Anything Goes," include "I Get a Kick Out of You," "Blow Gabriel Blow," "Friendship" and the title song.

Playing opposite Mrs. Mendoza is Stanley Coleman, one of Granite City's leading hair-stylists, also a veteran of previous Players' productions. His numbers in the current musical are "You're the Top" and "All Through the Night."

Fast Change Artist

A versatile performer, Coleman will make the fastest costume changes in the show when he appears in one scene that requires him to dress as a sailor, chef, Chinese convert, a Spanish count and the Duke of Hanover.

Also in line with earlier East Bank Players' musicals, the new show will spotlight the talents of several lovely girls in a dancing chorus, better known as "Reno Sweeney's Angels."

Local girls to be featured include Donna Vail, Debby Bair, Debbie Gargac, Connie Becerra, Angie Skerle and Linda Treadwell.

"Anything Goes" is being directed by Ann Johnson Scott of Granite City, with choreography by Mill Hoelscher.
Musical direction is by Pat Milster and piano accompaniment is furnished by Wayne Fisher.

Previews of the show recently were presented at the Elkettes Christmas Party, a holiday dinner at the Polish Hall and in the Meridian Ballroom at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus during the Nestle Co. safety dinner.

MARTIN LUTHER, portrayed by Mark Murphy of the Alpha Omega Players, makes his impassioned play in the award winning play by English playwright John Osborne, to be presented at 8 p.m. Friday at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. Tickets will be available at the door. The public is invited.

Osborne's 'Luther' at Niedringhaus Church

The award winning play "Luther", written by John Osborne, will be presented by the Alpha-Omega Players at 8 p.m. Friday at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Tickets for the one-night performance, costing $2 each, may be purchased in advance at the church office or at the door the night of the show.

Mark Murphy, a graduate in drama at Baylor University, will play the lead character of Martin Luther, dramatizing the life of a man whose spiritual struggles led him to split Christendom apart.

Though "Luther" chronicles the story of the famous leader of the Reformation, it is not regarded as a religious play to draw or repel one denomination or another; but as a drama of fiery emotional power, critics have stated.

All theatergoers, of whatever religious persuasion, "owe it to themselves to discover here the excitement that a vital play can generate," local sponsors advised.

Auxiliary Plans Poppy Poster Contest

The annual "Poppy Poster Contest," sponsored by the Venice-Madison American Legion Auxiliary Unit 307, will take place during March and April in the Madison and Venice school districts.

Plans for the contest were discussed at a unit meeting in the Legion Home in Venice. Also proposed is a "Miss Poppy Contest" for junior auxiliary members.

Miss Dorothy Hinson, unit president, conducted the session, with Mrs. Paye Smith presenting a report on a state "poppy" meeting held Feb. 6 in Vandalia.

Arrangements were made for a unit-sponsored party for veterans at Alton State Hospital.

The event, planned for March 9, will be under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ballentine, chairman.

Announcement also was made of the legion's birthday celebration to be held in Venice at 8 p.m. March 16, when auxiliary members will prepare and serve refreshments.

During the meeting, donations were made to a fund for a pilgrimage to Bennett Cottage at Normal, Ill., in June to the Haven Home for the facility's carpet fund; and to the Chester State Hospital to purchase tray favors for veterans.

In recognition of "Americanism" month, observed during February, a tribute to the American flag was read by the unit president. The group also honored Gold Star members.

Among those present for the program was Mrs. Marie Freise of Venice, whose son, Marine Private First Class Melvin John Freise, 19, died of wounds on April 23, 1969 in Vietnam.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Zelma Hart, Gold Star chairman. Auxiliary members planned their next session for March 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Venice-Madison Legion Hall.

District Delegate Candidates to Get Muskie Aid

The Muskie Illinois Campaign has given its official endorsement to a slate of candidates in the 23rd Congressional District, which includes part of Madison County, who are pledged to the Presidential candidacy of Senator Edmund S. Muskie (D-Maine).

Attorney Angelo G. Geocaris, Muskie Illinois chairman, and Larry Hansen, campaign director, announced that the Muskie Illinois campaign would lend its full support to help mount a local campaign effort to elect the following delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Miami next July:

James D. Smith, Belleville; H. Carl Runge, Granite City; Joan K. Hendrickson, O'Fallon; Gordon D. Bush, East St. Louis; Lillian Singer, Pontoon Beach; Claudia Nash Thomas, East St. Louis; and Samuel D. Gipson, Edwardsville.

Geocaris said: "The Muskie campaign is fortunate to have this group carrying its colors in the district."

Will Raise Funds

"We will assist them in every way. There will be a campaign coordinator and funds will be raised. Precincts will be staffed, and it is our intent to elect a Muskie slate on March 21, so that they in turn will help to nominate and later elect Senator Muskie."

Geocaris expressed the hope that Senator Muskie himself might have an opportunity to campaign in the area. "We will bend every effort to accomplish that," he said.

He also noted that the Muskie campaign will work to educate all voters on how to vote in the primary election and would do so on a non-partisan basis.

He pointed out that for the first time in Illinois history delegates will appear on the ballot pledged to a candidate (as well as uncommitted).

In paper ballot areas, he stressed the danger that a ballot can be spoiled by voting for more than the required number of delegate candidates.

He also noted that a vote for the Presidential candidate does not constitute a vote for the delegate candidate and cautioned everyone to vote for the Presidential candidate of his or her choice and the correct number of delegate candidates that can be elected in the district.

Expect 500 at Scout Appreciation Dinner

About 500 persons are expected to attend the Boy Scout Appreciation dinner at which Dr. Tom Hagall, nationally known radio personality, will be the speaker, in the Granite City High School Cafeteria beginning at 6:30 p.m., Saturday.

The Silver Beaver and Silver Fawn awards will be made to selected adult leaders who have rendered exceptional service to the Boy Scout movement. Norman H. Kinder Jr. will serve as master of ceremonies.

A special "Chilly Willy" award will be presented to those who participated in the Council Klondike Derby held in sub-zero weather at SIU-SW in January. This award will be presented to troop representatives by Dr. Tom Layloff and J. Richard Hooks, both of the Council Activities committee.

The dinner menu definitely is not intended for serious weight watchers, according to W. F. "Mick" Strange, activity chairman for the local Boy Scouts. A catered buffet dinner featuring roast beef, chicken, macaroni, au gratin potatoes, green beans, corn, relay, relish tray, cake, coffee and milk will be served.

SIU-SW Funds Released For Broadview Repair

The Illinois Board of Higher Education has released $40,000 to SIU-SW for emergency repairs to the former Broadview Hotel in East St. Louis which SIU-SW uses as the site for its East St. Louis Center.

In a letter to SIU-SW President John S. Rendleman, James B. Holderman, executive director of the Board of Higher Education, said that his office concurred in use of $40,000 from the university's internal funds for immediate rehabilitation and a repair work.

The money will be used to complete renovation of the third floor and necessary electrical and heating repairs at the Broadview Hotel, B. D. Hudgens, vice-president for business affairs, said.

Charles Moorhagen, assistant vice-president, said he expects work to begin during the week of Feb. 21, pending the availability of contractors.

Work had been halted at the Broadview pending a review by the Board of Higher Education on the role of SIU-SW in East St. Louis. Efforts to secure release of the funds culminated at the last meeting of the SIU board when the Citizens Advisory Council of East St. Louis spoke on the importance of the university's involvement in the city.

Budget Problems of Family, State Are Similar -- Ogilvie

What do the president of France, the governor of Illinois, and the mayor of Chicago talk about when they are together? Budgets, that's what, and it may prove something about the state of governments throughout the world that we have this great common denominator between chief executives.

In a few days, I will be in Washington with all the nation's governors for the National Governors Conference.

And it's easy to predict that when we chat together after the formal sessions we'll be talking about the public's money and where it should best be spent.

There won't be one of us who isn't backed against the wall. There won't be one of us who doesn't have the problem of saying "no" to all the various departments and highly-motivated groups that insist they should get a far larger slice from the same size of pie.

By the time I leave for Washington, the hard decisions will be made for the coming year in Illinois.

These will express in hundreds of pages of tables and text and figures—our best judgement of what is possible and what is impossible in managing our state government for the year ahead.

I can imagine no better practical classroom for the student of government than the long meetings we have had on the Illinois state budget.

One by one, the arguments are presented by staff people, by department heads, and by budget experts.

They may range from the urgent requirement that funds for the care of children must be increased, to a blunt discussion that a time-honored but unproductive program has to be cut to bring the budget into balance.

One recent session lasted from the moment I walked into the office, through sandwiches at the conference table, until the moment I had to depart for an evening engagement.

One by one, we made the decisions which will add up to the thousands of individual specifics of our budget.

The process is complicated — there are about 120 separate "funds" or special accounts, each of which has its own special requirements and statutory obligations.

Yet in essence our job isn't greatly different than a family conference on the problem of meeting needs of $11,000 on a $10,000 family income.

It's just a whole lot bigger, and affects 11 million residents of Illinois who have to foot the bill.

As I travel around the state, I am often asked this question: Where did all the money go from the state income tax?

Well, for starters, about 85% went into the communities of this state, and in direct grants to students, to schools and to persons on welfare.

The money came to Springfield — but it didn't stay there.

And nothing in the three years I have been governor has given me as much satisfaction as the doubling of state aid to local public schools.

Education and welfare have taken all but a tiny fraction of the increased revenue from the income tax.

The benefits of doubling state aid to your local schools are twofold:

— It has helped equalize the harsh disparities between rich and poor districts, clearly anticipating recent court decisions holding that inequality in education is unconstitutional.

— It has reduced the tremendous pressure on local property taxpayers to support schools that are vital to our future as a state.

Yet the time has clearly come to say "no" very firmly to any

Jeanne Simon Would Be Activist As New 'First Lady' of Illinois

By JERRY OWENS
Copley News Service
Springfield — Of all the candidates on the state ballot this year — and they're all men — none has a wife to match Democratic governor candidate Paul Simon's Jeanne when it comes to campaign experience.

An attorney and former state legislator, Mrs. Simon was truly a forerunner of today's Women's Lib movement, though she certainly doesn't identify herself as a women's liber. She and Simon met and married while both were serving in the Illinois House of Representatives. She is from Chicago and Simon is from Troy in Madison County.

Mrs. Bonnie Miller Dies Here at 83

Mrs. Bonnie G. (Greene) Miller, 83, of 2413 Cleveland Blvd., a retired employee of General Steel Industries, died at 1 p.m. Monday at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis. She had been a patient in the hospital four weeks following a seven-month illness. Born in Greenfield, Ill., Mrs. Miller, lived in Granite City for 75 years. She was employed as a receptionist for 45 years at the local steel plant prior to her retirement.

Mrs. Miller was a member of the Third Baptist Church and belonged to Granite City Chapter 69, Order of Eastern Star.

Her husband, Dallas Miller, died Oct. 7, 1952, and a son, Thomas Gracey, preceded her in death.

Surviving is a grandson, R. Kent Gracey of Hazelwood, Mo.; two great-grandchildren; three nieces and one nephew. Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Driver Strikes Auto, Two Houses, Arrested

John G. Levy Sr., 121 Grandville St., Venice, was charged with reckless driving after his auto collided with a car driven by Percy J. Wilkinson, 1241 Klein St., Venice, veered across the road and struck the corners of two houses at 8:10 p.m. Monday in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue.

Damaged were the homes of Mrs. Mary Deder, 1438 Madison Ave., and Frank Punsney, 1430 Madison Ave., where three fence posts, four pieces of shrubbery and a gas meter also were damaged.

The newspaper responded with these words in rebuttal:

"To us, it seems that the time is long overdue for the Chicago board and its school administrators to live within their own income whether they like it or not."

All I can add to that statement is to give the last six words special emphasis.

An accomplished speaker and community activist, Mrs. Simon stumped the state for her husband four years ago — more so than any other candidate's wife — and she is going at even a faster pace so far this year.

Mrs. Simon, who swapped a promising professional and political career for marriage in 1960, says she might some day like to return to public office. "But while Paul is governor, (notice the assumption), that's something else," she smiles.

She plans, however, a certain kind of activism if she becomes Illinois' First Lady.

"The potential of the governor's wife for calling things to attention has not been exploited," she maintains. She says she is not criticizing past or present first ladies, "but it just hasn't been their thing."

She recently stepped up her campaigning at school assemblies, coffee parties, old people's homes, press lunches, minority group sessions and conventions.

Simon's primary election opponent, Dan Walker of Chicago, also has turned his wife loose on the state. Mrs. Roberta Walker has just completed a six-day tour of Southern Illinois, following the route of her husband's widely noted walk of last year.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's attractive and personable wife, Mrs. Dorothy Ogilvie, will be no liability on the campaign circuit, though she is more of a "private" individual than is Mrs. Simon.

Nevertheless, in the last three years Mrs. Ogilvie has become progressively more "public" and community-oriented.

Mrs. Ogilvie is considered by Illinois campaign advisors to have much campaign potential, they are grooming her for a major role in the Governor's re-election drive.

A NEW CONCEPT IN MODERN MODULAR LIVING

Houses for Sale 1 House for Sale 1 Houses for Sale 1

IS OUR HOUSE THE BEST VALUE IN TOWN TODAY???

We Think So—and Heres' Why... In our opinion the Basement House, in the Granite City area, will increase in value, over the value of a non-basement or slab house with a garage, to the extent that its increased value should, within ten years, be worth the price of a new car to you.

The basement home, has the advantage of easy and inexpensive expansion for additional bedroom or family room, while you are making money living in it.

In other words... the basement house has better, quicker, and higher re-sale value.
